COUNTY 'VOIDS' TEACHER PAY HIKE

Defense Program Outlined For D.C.

CITY TO BE DIVIDED INTO DISTRICTS--UNITS FOR AIR RAID DEFENSE

An extensive civilian defense program for Daly City is now being worked out by the city council, Mayor Paul Green said today.

Mayor Green, who is also a member of the joint city-county civilian defense steering committee, said the program would be in close coordination with both San Francisco and San Mateo county.

The complete civilian defense program here should be in operation by the end of January, Green asserted.

Defenses for Daly City will be set up on the following basis:

1. Directing all operations will be the civilian defense board made up of the city council and the heads of all vital city departments. Mayor Green is the civilian defense head.

2. Next will come 10 to 15 major districts. Each of these districts will have a head whose job it will be to coordinate the workings of his section of:

3. Some 58 units composed of about three city blocks. Directing each of these smaller units will be three men. Their job will consist of an ability to render first aid, direct persons to adequate shelter, assist in fire and police work and hand out information on civilian defense.

There units will replace the conventional type of block wardens that were used during World War II. Mayor Green said it was felt that a unit would operate more

PRACTICE AIR RAID SIGNALS TO SOUND

Regular practice air raid warning signals will blast here Friday, December 29, at 11 a.m. and every Friday thereafter, Mayor Paul Green, chairman of civilian defense, said today.

The mock air raid signal is being given in coordination with San Francisco where a similar program will be carried out each Friday.

Warning of an "air attack" will be sounded by whistles atop city hall, the water station on Citrus, and somewhere still to be determined in Westlake.

The signal will be 10 short blasts repeated three times. The all clear will be one long blast.

Don't worry if you hear the air raid on Friday at 11 a.m. But at any other time, take cover . . . it may be more than just practice.

D.C. CABBIE DIES AFTER OPERATION

18-Year-Old Boy Shoots Cab Driver With Pawnshop Gun

Ronald E. Booth, Daly City cab driver shot by an 18-year-old high school boy died Thursday morning after undergoing a three hour operation Wednesday.

He died at the Hazel Hawkins Hospital in Hollister.

The surgery was an effort to relieve pressure on Booth's spine from a bullet wound.

Funeral services are now pending at the Nauman-Muzio-Lincoln mortuary in South San Francisco.

Booth, 31, resided at 75 Werner. His wife is an expectant mother.

Under Observation

Meanwhile, Harold J. Harmon, Sacramento high school boy, was still in the San Francisco Hospital psycopathic ward today. It was he who admitted shooting Booth near Hollister last Friday.

Harmon said he left Sacramento to Wednesday and on Thursday purchased a Luger pistol in a pawnshop.

Then, as he was walking around Chinatown he hailed Booth's cab. Once in the machine, he stuck the pistol in the back of the driver's neck and ordered him to drive to Hollister.

Scuffle

Near Hollister Harmon said he told the driver to get out. There followed a brief scuffle and Booth tried to run. Harmon said he then fired at Booth. He took some money and matches from the driver's pockets and drove all night until he reached Ventura.

He was picked up in that community when a waitress reported to police that youth was acting suspicious.

Thief Makes Off With $100 Supplies

Entering the basement of the Haney Munford home, 119 Los Banos, last Thursday evening, an unidentified thief made off with almost $100 in equipment.

The burglar broke into the basement by forcing open a back door.

Taken in the loot was: an electric drill worth $35; car hubs worth $45; two tires valued at $6 and nine pots and skillets.

SANTA CLAUS made a special appearance at the Eagles Hall last week to visit Frankie, the handicapped child adopted by the Colma Vista Grande Auxiliary FOE, 1848. Seated on Santa's lap (Mrs. Agatha Heyden) Frankie seems to be enjoying himself as are Mrs. Leonar O'Neil, left, chairman of the Frankie fund, and Mrs. Lorene Gardner, Auxiliary President. SOUNDS OF WAR

DC Woman Reports Plane Hovering

War jitters, or at least a sensitive ear, accounted for a police call to Gambetta street Tuesday morning.

An alarmed woman called officers to report that an airplane had been hovering over her home for almost an hour. "It sounds like it's just over the house," she told police.

Officer J. D. Walsh responded to the call, and a few minutes after he arrived put the lady's mind at rest.

"That sound is nothing but the wind blowing through your TV antenna," he reported.

Parking Meters Open "Business" January 2

Whether it is novelty or just an innate love for slot machines, many Daly City residents this week were dropping pennies and dimes into the new parking meters.

As the machines won't go into operation until January 2, the persons dropping in coins are merely donating money to the city.

However, after January 2 any person who failes to put in a penny or a nickel after parking will be faced with a $2 ticket, payable in police court.

Tickets also will be issued for those who don't observe parallel parking on Mission, Market and San Jose. The days of diagonal parking will go out with the new parking meters.

Crest Gives Free Tickets Tuesday

To stimulate the "Get Acquainted" policy, the management of the Crest theater, 7252 Mission st., will give free admissions next Tuesday night by way of their advertisement in the Daly City Record this week.

The instructions are to cut out the coupon at the bottom of the announcement. Present it to the box office, plus tax, and the show is yours.

The management also announced that it has secured a contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer whereby the Crest will show the film company's products "first run" after appearing on Market street.

BAYSHORE WIDENING BEGINS IN FIVE WEEKS

Work on widening the Bayshore Highway north of South San Francisco to the San Francisco line will begin within the next five weeks.

An official of the Charles Harney corporation of San Francisco, the firm which was awarded the bid, made the estimate this week. The winning bid was $348,037.

Completion date has been set for about July 1, 1951. The job will consist of widening 3.2 miles of Bayshore from four to six lanes.

MURDER WILL OUT

Alleged Killer Caught Here Using Victims Name

An alleged murderer who had escaped police nets for four years and was using his victim's first name was captured in a Daly City home Wednesday as he was reading a magazine.

Jerry Galante, 41, 53 Theta, is in custody of the sheriff's office today pending his return to New York City.

As resident of Daly City for the past eight months, Galante was a plasterer. He was living under the assumed name of Salvatore Sacchere.

The ironic note is that Galante allegedly killed a Salvatore Giglio in a robbery attempt in New York December 5, 1946. Police did not know why Galante had adopted the first name of the man he assertedly shot down.

Tip from N.Y.

On a tip from New York police, Daly City officers and members of the sheriff's department closed in on Galante's home Wednesday evening. While Sgt. Roland Petrocchi covered the back door of the home, Chief W. W. Sunderland, Sgt. Roy Beecher and sheriff's deputies knocked on the front door.

When the door opened, officers spotted the wanted man sitting on a sofa reading a magazine. To avoid trouble, police said they wanted him to come to the station on a complaint that he had been in a recent auto accident.

No Resistance

Galante said he would come, and offered police no trouble.

Driving to the station, Galante broke down and said he knew the real reason why he had been picked up.

"I've been expecting this for sometime," he told officers.

Police said they did not know whether or not Galante's family was aware of his alleged killing.

He was booked at San Mateo County jail, and will be returned to New York sometime this week.

School Employees Can't Be Given $15 Month Hike Before Spring

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS SAYS TEACHERS MUST WAIT FOR ANY INCREASES

A few hours after the Jefferson Elementary school board approved a $15-a-month cost of living raise for all employes Tuesday, the County Superintetndent of Schools indicated such a boost was illegal.

In a letter to James Snell, superintendent of schools, Miss Pansy Jewett Wednesday morning asserted that a pay raise at this time "would constitute a gift of public funds and may not be constitutionally granted."

It appeared that this would put an end to talk of pay boosts which started last week when the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association made an "urgent" request for a $50 a month increase.

Snell said he had written for an opinion by the district attorney on the legality of the raise, but in the light of Miss Abbott's letter he said he expected a negative reply.

What effect the County Superintendent of Schools' letter would have on San Mateo where teachers were granted the $15 raise last week and in other Penirsula cities could not be foreseen at this time.

DA's Opinion

Miss Abbott based her letter on an opinion handed down by the District Attorney's office November 2. The DA noted that the Attorney General has ruled that no statutory authority exists granting school boards power to increase salaries during the school years covered by a contract.

Snell said a definite verdict on the proposed pay increase would be forthcoming from the District Attorney's office next week.

In making their plea for increased wages, the Teachers' Association December 14 noted that the cost of living has risen sharply since contracts were signed last Spring, and that failure to retain a satisfactory salary standard will result in many teachers leaving the profession to enter more lucrative work.

$50 Rejected

At the regular meeting of the school board Tuesday evening, board members rejected the $50 boost because it would mean a substantial raise in the budget. However, in light of similar requests through the county, the board agreed a $15 raise was in order not only for teachers, but for all Jefferson elementary school employes.

Mrs. Otha Kinsey, chairman for the teachers, agreed to the board's decision, but only "if there were no strings attached in the way of additional duties." The board agreed that the pay raise would not mean added work for any of the employes.

Should the $15 a month raise go into effect January 1, as agreed by the board, it would mean taking $8,100 more from the district's reserve funds.

$4,000 FIRE GUTS AUTO PARTS YARD

Blast Opens Blaze When Hot Spark Hits Car's Open Gas Tank

One small spark, and an open gas tank . . . that's the story of the 4,000 fire that gutted the Auto Parts Yards, 7001 Mission street, last Saturday morning.

Harry King, yard manager, was cutting away on a metal strip when a spark from his torch flew into the open gas tank of a car parked nearby.

In one brief, bright blast the car went up in flames, taking with it one corner of the shed used in the yard to store machinery and tools.

King escaped the initial blast, although he suffered minor burns.

A moment after the car burst into flames, the Colma fire department was on the scene. Louis Nannini, Colma fire chief, had spotted the fire from his gas station which is located just across the street.

Aided by the Colma firemen, Daly City hose hoisters fought the blaze for almost an hour before it was put under control.

Today nothing remains of the shed but charcoal, and King estimates his loss in tools and parts will run close to 4,000. The car was insured, but not the shed or its contents, King said.

Santa Claus Visits Frankie

By DOROTHY JOHNSON

Making a special visit to the Eagles Hall, Santa Claus last Tuesday evening rained gifts on Frankie, the handicapped child adopted by the Colma Vista Grande Auxiliary FOE 1848.

This was the highlight of the regular meeting which followed the initiation of Mrs. Flora Matson into the Auxiliary.

Amid a tinkle of bells Santa made his appearance, and with a jovial greeting to everyone, especially to Frankie, Santa opened his huge pack. In it were scores of gifts for Frankie from members of the Auxiliary.

After the 6-year-old had received his gifts, a delightful variety show was presented by the Bunnie Carrol dance studio.

Other high spots in the evening were the yuletide decorations, carols, and exchange of secret pal gifts.

Members then were treated with a delicious Christmas repast by Mrs. Edna Mona (social chairman and her committee with the tables gayly decorated in the Christmas theme, due to the artistic ability of Mrs. Edrie Summers.

A full evening with holiday spirit in the air was then closed wtih a few words from President Lorene Gardner wishing everyone a Merry Christmas, with the next meeting scheduled for Tuesday, December 26, where final plans for the Bay Aerie meet January 11 will be discussed.

LAND PURCHASE HOLDS UP SCHOOL

Cost of 2½ Acre Site Delaying Construction Of Westlake School

The cost of an additional 2½ acres for the new 14 room Westlake school is holding up construction, the Jefferson elementary schol board reported today.

At their regular meeting Tuesday evening the board reported it was ready to let the contract for construction to the J. C. Peterson Co. Peterson was the low bidder in a field of six, with a bid of $262,497.

However, the board said it could not let the bid until the additional 2½ acres was purchased from the Henry Doelger Builders Inc. The acreage, for which the board was prepared to pay between $6,000 and $10,000 without improvements, is valued by Doelger at $80 a front foot.

Raffetto Speaks

Representing Doelger, Raffetto stated that the present property, with an additional amount for corner lots, is valued close to $81,000. He said this was based on a recent FHA appraisal.

Raffetto stated that the Doelger Builders had laid out their subdivisions with the understanding that the 2½ acres would be retained by them and used for homes.

No Change

The board expressed sympathy with the Doelger Builders but asserted that a change in plans would be almost impossible at this time. The board noted that all plans are predicated upon the acquisition of the additional 2½ acre site, and to attempt to change the plans would result in considerable delay. The board said that all previously approved procedures would have to be done again including a complete re-drawing of all plans and specifications.

The discussion closed when the board appointed one of its members, Mike Callan, to negotiate further on the property and to take steps towards its immediate acquisition.

Callan said he would attempt to reach a "more suitable" price for the land with Doelger Builders.

More Business

Other business before the board Tuesday was:

1. Robert Waller was recommended by the board for the position of building inspector for the Westlake construction.

2. Mrs. Cheatham moved that Hugh Falconer be offered the efficiently than hundreds of block wardens.

At the present time the city is compiling a list of men and women who will be called on to act as district or unit workers.

4. Working in conjunction with all groups will be an auxiliary fire and police force made up of members of various civic groups. These organizations last month submitted a number of names of those interested in doing this type of work.

5. The training program for the auxiliary workers will go into effect sometime in January, Mayor Green said.

5. First aid classes will be held at Jefferson High school for civilian defense workers. The elementary school teachers will also be given brush up training in first aid.

6. Names of doctors and nurses in the area will be compiled for any emergency. One doctor will be named to head the medical side of civilian defense.

7. Ambulances will be on the alert. The city has one ambulance, and Joe Lewkowitz of Daly City Super Service has promised the use of an "ambulance" he just purchased.

(The Lewkowitz ambulance is a converted hearse.)

8. An inventory is to be taken of all trucks, tow cars and station wagons in the area which might be used for emergency service.

9. Daly City's theatres and schools will be prepared to house refugees who might be left homeless from an air attack.

In outlining the program for civilian defense Mayor Green pointed out that until some definite action is taken on a national or state basis it is difficult to promote a fool proof program.

"However, we don't plan to wait until it's too late. We're working on defense now to save a life tomorrow," Mayor Green asserted.

No estimate has been made as to how much the defense program will cost the city. The mayor noted that there was $2,500 set aside in the budget for such emergencies.

Meanwhile, the city council next Tuesday evening will approve a resolution to join the county defense program. Also, Mayor Green and a still to be named city councilman will attend an emergency conference of the League of California Cities on civilian defense to be held in Sacramento January 4.

There was no second to this motion.

3. Gallan moved, Andrew VanderWerff seconded the motion that the Crocker 7th and 8th grades be assigned to the Colma school with their present teachers. The Jefferson 8th grades be assigned to Colma school with Miss Traynor remaining at Jefferson as principal.

Callan and Van derWerff approved this motion. Mrs. Cheatham abstained from voting.

4. No principals for either Crocker or Colma school were named. This is to be taken up at a later date.

5. The board, with the exception of Mrs. Cheatham who abstained from voting, approved a motion to increase the garbage collection rates from $25 to $50 a month. This will begin in January.

Mortician To Head Irish Society

Edwin J. "Bud" Duggan, prominent mortician, recently was unanimously elected president of the United Irish Societies by the outgoing officers and delegates.

The Persident, aided by his many committees, is already making preparations for the many Irish functions, both spiritual and social, for the coming year, the highlight of which will be the St. Patrick's Day Celebration and Convention.

It is the firm wish of the President and his committee Chairmen, that all Irish societies will cooperate to their fullest capacities. It is also hoped that not only the organization members but also all Irishmen and their friends in the Bay Area will lend their support to make the 1951 St. Patrick's Day Celebration the finest affair this city has ever seen.

There will be absolutely no charge, and tickets may be had free of cost by dropping into the Gas-U-Mat anytime between now and Friday noon.

Featured on the show will be a full length movie, various types of stage entertainment, and free candy for all the kids.

"After all, Christmas is rightly a children's holiday, and I feel the best way I can wish the Community a Merry Christmas is to treat the kids," Schwartz said today.

Remember, the big event is absolutely free, and tickets may be obtained by calling at the Gas-U-Mat, right across from the Serra Theatre on Junipero Serra boulevard.

Advice On Income Tax Given Freely Here

Just to put a sour note into your Christmas joy, the Treasury Department announced today that two income tax experts will be in Daly City and Colma soon.

Taxpayers in and near the two communities will be given free assistance and advice relative to their 1950 Estimated Income Tax and also their 1950 U. S. Individual Income Tax returns.

A deputy collector will be at the Colma Bank of America January 8 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. He will be at the Bank of America in Daly City at the same hours on January 9 and 10.

Four Firemen Named To Regular Dept.

Screening a list of 16 qualified volunteer firemen, the city council Monday night was only able to obtain four men interested in joining a regular fire department.

Consequently when the full time department takes over the day shift January 16 there will be only four men and a chief, Elmer Kennedy.

Civil service tests, which will be open to both volunteer firemen and the public, are to be given in January or February to obtain two more neded men. Full time blaze busters will work a five day 50 hour week at a salary between $270 and $300.

The four men who will be Daly City's first full time firemen are Melvin Hanson, 32, auto mechanic, 407 Santa Barbara; Robert Alexander, 29, electrician, 1045 Brunswick; George De Bona, 28, teamster, 298 Oliver; Frank Specht Jr., 36, salesman, 64 Guadalupe.

Farmers Market To Close Temporarily February 15

A new date, Feb. 15, has been announced for the start of a three-months shutdown of the San Francisco Farmers' Market to permit construction of permanent concrete platforms and sheds.

Previously, Dec. 23 had been announced as the date but delay in completing plans caused the postponement which will permit farmers to bring surplus winter crops to the market for sale until the middle of February.

A $120,000 construction program for the market will provide it with 1076 lineal feet of raised concrete platforms, of which 450 feet will be covered, with farmers' trucks parked on one side and a sidewalk for patrons on the other. Ultimately, all of the platforms will be covered. Ample parking space for patrons is provided adjacent to the platforms.

The market will reopen for the 1951 crop season on May 15.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM A CORNER

By BILL KATZ

CHRISTMAS, 1950

Looking squarely into the atomic jaws of death, the world this year finds it hard to snap its collective suspenders and belch home spun philosophy.

No one really looks happy. Even the kids have the look of gloom brought on by the lack of packages in the hall closet. Their parents, hit by inflation, have had to shelve ideas about buying them the much needed, educational TV set.

Some merchants assert sales are up. Others frankly admit that the profit has shifted to building air raid shelters. About the only thing moving in the stores are the crowds who like to look, but find it hard to put up the dollars to buy.

Luny Look

A look at friends (or relatives) wil lconvince even the optomist that there have been better times. There aren't enough smiles to counteract the tired, worried look of the majority.

About the only lads happy are the morticians and bartenders. Both are looking forward to increased business.

Effrontery

Derpite this depression, Christmas rolls around as it has for the past 1,950 years. It appears as an effrontery to some, to others a habit, and to the majority a blessing as a holiday from work.

The true tragedy is that now, more than any time in those past 1,950 years, the real meaning of Christmas should be driven home with a holy sledge hammer. Odd as it may be Christmas is not celebrated as boon to merchants and well wishers, but as a commemoration of the birth of Christ.

Lost in the flood of flowing spirits, both liquid and verbal, the birthday of Christ is noted no more as a recall to thing spiritual. Were Christ to appear on the air waves this December 25, voicing the words of faith, he'd probably get a Hooper rating somewhat close to 01. per cent. Who wants to hear more than five minutes of "preaching" when TV offers Walt Disney, and the radio can give the listener a murder mystery?

The average man (if you can ever find him) will admit its great to talk of "love," "brotherhood," and "faith," but in times like these it's wiser to study the manual of arms than the passages of Luke.

So here we have Christmas, 1950. In justaposition are the living thoughts of atomic death and the forgotten words of Christ. Between the two is the thin, black curtain of just plain forgetfulness.

Curtains

On one side all is happiness and compassion. On the other is grief and greed. Christmas is an effort to tear asunder this curtain so that it may never go up again. However, it takes a hand to move a curtain, as it takes a mind to recognize God.

Unfortunately, neither the group hand nor the group mind will move. Both will be too occupied enjoying a phony Christmas . . . the day to get drunk enough with spirits or moronic gymnastics to forget to be unhappy.

Going Out

It's this attitude that leads us all into the world where, perhaps in 1951, there won't be a single hand or a single mind around to do anything but serve as food for the worms.

This Christmas it would be a fair idea if all of us got down on our knees and prayed. It may be a bit old fashion, and out of place in a room cluttered with modern furniture, but it will be quite helpful.

And if you don't believe in prayer, do it just the same. Your words may come in handy for some neighbor who forgot.

This Christmas, just to be different, let us all remember why we are observing a holiday.

Xmas Pageant Slated For Park

The star of Bethlehem atop a tall eucalyptus tree on the south side of Lindley Meadow, on the Main Drive off 30th Avenue and Fulton Street, in Golden Gate Park, will direct the way to the annual Shepherd Pageant given annually during the Christmas season since 1920.

The Three Wise Men with a large flock of sheep may be seen in the fifty acre meadow illuminated by floodlights concealed in shrubbery on a steep grassy slope below the main drive which parallels the length of the meadow.

The pageant may be seen daily from 5:00 o'clock until midnight, beginning Wednesday, Dec. 20, and continuing through Sunday, December 31.

Two large Christmas trees on each side of the Main Drive from Stanyan Street into Golden Gate Park will be lighted on the evening of December 20 through the holiday season.

THIEF DEMONSTRATES LACK OF REAL THIRST

An auto thief who was either near sighted or a tea-totaler deserted a stolen truck in Daly City last Friday.

Police know little of the thief who stepped out of the machine on Whittier street. Mrs. Calvin, 222 Whittier, called officers when the truck was left near her home overnight. Later it was traced to Marty DiGrazia of San Francisco, from whom it had been stolen Friday morning.

But one thing is certain . . . the thief overlooked quite a haul. When police recovered the truck they found it contained: five cases of gin, two cases of champagne, two cases of whiskey, one case of liquor and one case of brandy.

DRIVE SOBERLY

With the holiday season near, motorists are reminded by the California State Automobile Association that any driver who operates a motor vehile under the influence of intoxicating liquor is guilty of a misdeameanor. The offense becomes a felony if an intoxicated driver inflicts bodily injury upon another person.

TRADITIONAL CHRISTMAS

Christmas, more than any other of the holy days of the Christian World, has built up traditions which make it the special day that it is. Basically such traditions are all religious, but over the years many others have come to be added, all adding their share to the warmth of the day.

The Yule log, plum pudding, mistletoe, Christmas trees, Christmas stockings on the fireplace, carolling, and the family gatherings, have grown to be a part of Christmas through the generations. But new things are constantly added, some of them rapidly making themselves a part of our lovely Christmas tradition.

Among the new traditions is that of listening to Christmas carols, and the Christmas story, as broadcast by "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which has brought unto itself a vast audience that is impressed with the simplicity and sincerity of a program that goes right to the heart.

Without the appeal of any great acting names, without any special "tricks" of any sort, "The Greatest Story Ever Told" presents its annual broadcast of the Nativity with a heartwarming sincerity. It is especially effective because there is no drum-beating connected with it; everyone on the program, from director to smallest bit actor, remains anonymous. Even the sponsor, The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, uses no commercial on the program, at Christmas or at any other time during the year.

This is truly radio's outstanding example of public service, an extension of the brotherly Christmas spirit all year 'round. If you want to know why it is becoming an American tradition, tune in to it on Christmas Sunday, or any Sunday in the year.

WYOMING OIL IS BIG BUSINESS

An estimated $2,500,000 a year in additional cash plus full uses of formerly wasted bi-products are benefits promised over and above expected petroleum profits in the new Wyoming oil field. Secretary of Interior Chapman says that the new oil field is a new outstanding constellation project—all oiled up and flowing.

MORE AND BETTER MOTORS

A total of 760,529 new motor vehicles were sold in domestic and foreign markets by United States automotive plants during the month of October. The figures that were furnished by the Automobile Manufacturer Association showed an increase over the previous month. The big month of the year was June. The export volume in October remained at substantially the same level that has prevailed since July.

Detroit never falls down on the great National industries.

STEAMSHIPS WILL SOON TOOT THEIR WHISTLES

The United States Supreme State Court has returned the Dollar Steamship Line to Stanley Dollar and his associates—after long, long years during which time the Government has held possession of the huge concern. The finishing touches are being put on the many problems that were claimed by the Government. But Stanley Dollar has won the fight and he is now making definite plans for the restoration of the Company that bears his name.

STATISTICAL DATA

In carrying out orders of President Truman the Director of the Budget Bureau explains: "Any proposals for publication of statistics which may involve questions of National security" must be kept secret because the publication of statistics in any instance must be kept away from the eyes of the public. Pop Truman says so.

A BAD EGG STORY

A high grade publication in Chicago has published an editorial and news article in which it says that the Government of the United States has bought more than 80,000,000 pounds of dried eggs since January 1 at a cost of $75,000,000. At the same time American food manufacturers are buying dried eggs—not from our surplus stocks at 96 cents a pound—but they are buying imported Chinese eggs at 77 cents a pound.

The net result of our support of egg prices has been to make them so high that they are unsalable—a pain in the budget of the American housewife—a relatively small but wholly undersireable flow of American dollars to the Chinese Communists—a horrible mix-up in which we have ultimately been gyped and played for a sucker. No wonder the price of eggs has been 93 cents a dozen in Washington in November.

DON'T LOSE SIGHT OF STALIN

The Russian Communists want the World "with a string around it."

One United States official said upon his return to the United States: "There is no sense in talking to Stalin except as you would talk to a man you know was determined to kill or conquer you. There will be some sense in talking to Stalin if you can talk from strength."

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

We're sorry now we made such a fuss about the lack of rain a year or two ago. Old Jupe Pluvius apparently took our complaint to heart and decided to remedy the situation. The problem now is how to get rid of the remedy.

Anyway, we wish the old boy would stop his drooling and dry up for a while. Abundant rain is fine—up to a point. But it passes the point when the heavenly liquid washes people off the street and out of their homes.

Hence, we wish to apologize to Jupe for the unkind things we once said about his not being on the job.d This fall he has been working much too hard and needs a rest. So do we.

BOOK NOTES

By NICK BISHOP

Christmas time usualy finds our Book Notes involved in the mass of new material published with an eye on the Christmas gift situation—this holiday season is no exception.

The giving and receiving of books is a fine thing with the recipient in mind. Books can be found to suit the taste of any reader no matter how far afield that taste may happen to be.

Surveying the field the buyer will find several new books in most all categories, with the exception of crime detection who-dunit murder mysteries. Publishers keep these back at Christmas on the theory that other books will probably sell better.

This lack of books of crime-bent hits the avid reader of mysteries hard: it also hurts the chances of the giver of placing a pleasing book in the hands of the would be recipient. There is, however, one notable book in the field this season, "Dictionary of Underworld Lingo." Published under the editorship of Hyman E. Golden, the book supposedly was written behind the walls of this country's largest prisons. The text gives the definitions of the special vocabulary of those people usually observed outside the law. It should help the reader in understanding our crime fiction. Twayne Publishers, $5.

Many appealing books for all will be found in any book store's general classification list, some of them are "Man O' War" by Page Cooper and Roger L. Treat. This bok, dealing with the legendary "Big Red," is amply illustrated. Published by Julian Messner, $3. "Story of Lassie" by Rudd B. Weatherwax and John H. Rothwell. It would be difficult to find someone not familiar with this wonder dog of the movies. Deull, Sloan & Pearce, $2.50.

All too often in home gatherings, points come up in discussion and no final answer can be decided upon without an outside opinion. The easiest way of securing an accurate concise and authoritative answer is to refer to the "Information Please Almanac." The 1951 edition, edited by John Kieran, was published on December 12. The new edition has an added section that will be welcomed by those who cannot resist the crossword puzzle. The new addition in Information Please is an 18-page crossword puzzle guide, designed to put light on obscure words.

Publisher's lists abound with titles covering stark drama, and love in the raw. Starting with "Rainbow In The Royals" by Garland Roark and through John Jennings' "The Pepper Tree," romance readers will find satisfaction with the best the season has to offer.

Happy Christmas Season reading.

The Gospel according to St. Matthew

And lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary, his mother and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, frankincense and myrrh...

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Return the Baby

"WHEN WE HAD BEEN MARRIED seven years, with no hope of having a child," writes Kennetha McNear, from a suburb of Philadelphia, "we determined upon adoption. But we are shy, quiet people, and we hesitated to take the step.

"At that time, two years ago, through my work as a nurses' aid, I became acquainted with a destitute family in which there were eight children, and a delicate newborn baby, Elena. This family lived in squalor in four dark rooms; there were four daughters, aged 17 to 12, and four younger sons. With the mother's written permission the baby was given to my husband and me; we all signed this agreement in a lawyer's office. Elena has grown into an exquisite, responsive, loving child, the very light of our eyes and the core of our hearts.

What To Do

"Since we took Elena, the mother has had two children, and has suffered the loss of her right hand. Two older girls are married, and four children work between school hours. Last year the mother asked to see Elena occasionally, and I took her to her old home, she being too young to appreciate the shocking contrast between her life and theirs. Now, this week, comes a request from the father for a large sum of money, to make payments on a car and a television set, and coupled with it is the statement that he and his wife want Elena to return home. Between indignation, grief and anxiety Rod and I have had a terrible week. The lawyer who wrote us says that our agreement two years ago was not legal, that we have no real claim on the child.

". . . grief and anxiety . . ."

"I ask you," this tragic letter concludes, "think of the baby nearest to your heart, and imagine what it must be to us to think of giving up our adored little daughter to the crowded, impoverished home from which we took her. Yet, as Rod says, if we yield to the sort of pressure that this appeal suggests, we will never be free of it, and there will never be any end to it.

We don't know what to do; the thing has come as such a shock, and yet I think we always feared it. Last year my husband seriously suggested accepting a position with his same company in Southern California, so that we might feel more safe about keeping Elena. Would our making known the squalid conditions of the home, and the father's uncertain employment, have any effect on a jury if this came to trial? What similar cases have you known, and how have they been decided? I am half sick with worrying and praying and need advice."

My advice to this troubled pair is unfortunately exactly what they don't want to hear. One of the saddest things in a very confused world is that children so often have to pay for the grown-ups' faults. That Elena's family is irresponsi- and slipshod [illegible] Elena's misfortune.

Would Increase Agony

The only thing for Kennetha and Rod to do is to surrender the child, and face the inevitable agony of parting in the conviction that this is the wisest solution under the deplorable circumstances. Send Elena home. She is still so small that finding herself in a crowded lair of sisters and brothers will not make upon her the impression that it would a few years later. She has no social consciousness now.

That is if things come to the worst. At the best, you will call the parental bluff, and they will give the child back to you, this time legally. I cannot believe they really want Elena, but the fact remains that she is theirs, and your adoption of her was irregular. Even when children are legally adopted this change of heart on the parents' part sometimes makes bitter trouble. In your case, to insist on holding Elena, the great cost of a lawsuit, and its probable outcome in your losing her anyway, would only increase your agony.

Give her back, be grateful that you had that happy little presence for awhile, and console yourself with what you had of her.

Adopt another baby, this time through one of those agencies that keeps the child's background and her new status a complete secret on both sides. That is the recognized, safe and legal way. Otherwise you not only would be helpless against the claims of such a family as Elena's, but you would be worrying about it all the time.

You are having a hard, hard experience; an experience quite as hard as that of parents who by death lose a beautiful three-year-old. But believe me, Elena will adjust herself quite contentedly.

Sir Walter Raleigh's cloak-and-puddle chivalry may be too much to ask in modern traffic, but drivers should exercise caution rather than speed-and-spater carelessness during rainy weather, urges the California State Automobile Association.

WHAT'S NEW IN FILMS

By DIANE

Tour of the studios this week reveals that "Quo Vadis" is nearly completed. The picture is set to run FOUR hours. Clifton Webb is going to make a "Belvedere" sequel for 20th Fox. The Taylor-Hilton squable was kept undercover for some time. It's very questionable whether there'll be a makeup.

Theater admission prices are being boosted in the Central and Mid-west. Look for them out here before too long . . . . Arthur Hornblow has decided to team Clark Gable and Lana Turner in a new film, "Sometimes I Love You" . . . Stepped up business activity under rearmament program has wiped out a glum year for the film industry.

Be on the lookout for "Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd In Sweden." This is a comedy featurette filmed in Sweden. This reporter says it will get a special Oscar.

Alan Ladd is coming out in another "Whispering Smith" type show. It's another western and gives Mona Freeman a big boost in stardom. . . . RKO is planning on producing 32 top budget features in 1951.

Loveable Lewis Stone finally gets a top role in MGM's "People In Love". . . . Hollywood comedians have expressed a fear of TV work. They claim an act which used to be god for years is now eaten up in one TV appearance. . . . Metro and Universal are battling over Marjorie Main. Each want her to do Ma Kettle type pics. Bing Crosby is trying to get a scrip for Judy Garland as a Xmas present. . . . "Tripoli" is proving to be a floperoo. . . . See you next week.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Chinese Delegation Charges U. S. With Aggression in Korea, China; U. N. Forces Face Defeat in Korea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

The "big-win-the-war" push got underway (1) in Korea with the 24th division driving on Chongju. Other UN forces aimed toward Taechon. The big offensive was touched off by a frontline visit of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who flew from Tokyo to Sinanju (2). He also flew over Sinuiju (3) the Suiho dam (4), Hyesanjin (5), and over the Changjin reservoir area (6). Superforts bombed Manpojin (7) in one of the war's big raids.

UNITED NATIONS:

Is It War or Peace?

Fear gripped the United Nations security council when U.S. delegate Warren R. Austin asked Red China's delegate Wu Hsiu-Chuan, "Will there be war or peace in the Far East?"

It was with these words that the United States charged Red China with aggression in Korea; it was these words that created a feeling of fear never before felt in the United Nations. As one diplomat explained, it created such a great fear that those seated in the security council were afraid to speak lest the wrong words plunge the world into World War III.

Communist China had been invited to the council to debate the charge that the U.S. had committed aggression against Formosa. Instead the Chinese delegate charged the security of his country was endangered by U.S. aggression against Korea, and he asserted he was alarmed by the spread toward China of the "flames" of the U.S. "war of aggression." He demanded the withdrawal of United Nations troops from Korea and a seat in the United Nations for his country.

The American delegate charged China with aggression after General MacArthur reported there were 200,000 Chinese Communist soldiers in Korea and that the U.N. forces faced an entirely new war.

Red China replied that the Chinese troops in Korea were volunteers and that Peiping will not stop their departure for the battle front.

Austin asked the Chinese delegate 20 direct questions which, in sum, bolied down to: Why had China thrown 200,000 troops into Korea against United Nations forces and what do you want? The Red delegate did not even answer Austin.

Observers who heard the exchange of charges were agreed that the world was closer to World War III than ever before. It was also evident that China had no intention of calling off its troops in Korea until U.N. forces had been defeated.

But more than this, the future of Asia seemed at stake. China's delegate charged the U.S. with aggression in the Philippines and other Asian countries. This would indicate, most observers felt, that China had mapped a program for the domination of the Far East comparable to that one championed by Japan.

And as the diplomats talked and hurled charges and countercharges, the position of U.N. forces in Korea became more desperate. Their defeat would mean a blow to the United Nations from which that world organization may never recover.

The tone of Wu's security council speech was not new to U.N. delegates. It could have been written by the Russians. At one point Wu threatened the countries backing the United States not to "pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the United States—because if you support United States aggression you must bear the consequences of your actions."

Chinese Reds

Jacob Malik (left), chief of the Soviet delegation to the U. N. and Julius Katz-Suchy (center), Polish delegate, are on hand to welcome the nine-member Chinese Communist delegation which appeared before the United Nations. Malik is shown shaking hands with Gen. Wu Hsiu Chuan, head of the Chinese group.

KOREA:

Chinese Attack

With Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally directing the start, U.N. forces in North Korea launched what was called the "big-win-the-war-push." Initial successes were reported by U.N. commanders, but Chinese Communists counterattacks stalled the drive and broke through the U.N. front at a number of points.

As many as 200,000 Chinese Communists were reported in North Korea, overrunning U.N. positions and threatening the entire army.

The Reds were swiftly exploiting their breakthrough. They were reported swarming along "every road, gulley and ridge line." As many as 21 divisions were reported to be in action.

The situation in Korea was so serious that General MacArthur told the non-Communist powers that they must decide quickly what to do about the grim prospect of "an entirely new war" against Red China. He went so far as to suggest that World War III had actually begun and could be stopped only by a last-minute political solution.

Overnight the military situation in Korea became desperate. MacArthur said Chinese Communists had already thrown "a major segment" of their armies into Korea. They have shown "the obvious intent and preparation" to reinforce this spearhead with perhaps 300,000 more men now on the move in Manchuria, he added.

Observers said that total defeat in Korea was not unlikely if some last minute action is not taken by the United Nations. It was no secret that military commanders wanted the authority to bomb supply centers and concentration points in Manchuria where the Communists have organized for the attack.

AMERICAN COMMUNISTS

Jury Indicts Six Top U. S. Communists

A federal grand jury ordered contempt of congress prosecution against former Communist boss Earl Browder and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, New York millionaire and alleged "angel" of Red causes.

The jury also indicted Philip Jacob Jaffe, former editor of the defunct Amerasia magazine and a key figure in the 1945 "stolen secrets" case.

Also indicted for contempt were Joseph P. Kamp, executive vice-chairman of the constitutional educational league; Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, and William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the civil rights congress. All face heavy fines and prison sentences if convicted on contempt charges.

CONGRESS:

The Politicians Fight

President Truman put several questions to the lameduck session of congress on the opening day and immediately the politicians began their wrangling. To the American listening to the depressing news from Korea and screams of a troubled world, the gentlemen in the senate and house appeared somewhat ridiculous, to put it mildly.

The administration asked for extension of rent controls, statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, increased taxation to meet budget requirements, and increased defense appropriations.

Most observers believe the rent control extension measure is doomed to defeat. Republican senators said it could wait. What the delay is for no one knows, unless it is to tighten the squeeze on the little man.

A bitter and possibly long fight was indicated in both houses over the administration's call for an excess-profits tax. Even the proposed legislation granting statehood to Alaska and Hawaii seemed in for a knock down and drag out fight.

Republican leaders, buoyed by election victories, seemed determined to have a greater say in the nation's foreign policy. Many observers believe if they could collect Secretary of State Acheson's scalp they would be satisfied.

This wrangling of the politicians is getting results in one way, however. The American public is on the verge of screaming fits. More than anything else the average American would like to see some degree of unity in congress at a time when the nation faces a serious crisis.

ATOMIC POWER:

To Reveal Secrets

The announcement that the United States, Great Britain and Canada had agreed to release data relating to "low-power" nuclear reactors was greeted by most observers as one of the most important decisions in regard to the question of atomic secrecy to be made by the three powers.

The agreement permits the publication of information necessary to the design, construction, and operation of four U.S. low-power reactors as a means of stimulating atomic-energy development in the countries, particularly for peace-time application.

The atomic energy commission said the three governments agreed that the release of the information under the revised guide will speed the training of nuclear-reactor engineers and techinicians and will hasten atomic-energy development in these countries, particularly for peace-time applications.

Before such a reactor can be built by a private institution, however, the permission of the government to use the necessary fissionable materials is required.

SECURITY LAW:

Wheels Begin to Turn

The first step against the Communist party under the subversive control act passed by the last session of congress, was taken when the justice department filed a petition with the subversive activities control board to force Communists in this country to register.

Thus the wheels of law begin to grind under an act that has been criticized as unworkable.

The 4,800 word petition, signed by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, charged the Communist party of the United States with being run by the government of Soviet Russia.

The Communist party refused to register voluntarily under the internal security law and is expected to fight the petition.

Seth Richardson, chairman of the control board, said the hearings on the petition might be expected to run for months.

Tragedy

Two trains on the Long Island railroad smashed into each other in one of the bloodiest wrecks in the nation's history. Seventy-seven dead and 332 injured were removed from the wreck which has touched off an investigation of the railroad on which another crash a few months earlier took a toll of 33 dead and 125 injured.

A-BOMB:

Use Is Vetoed

American military leaders considered, but voted against using the atom bomb on massed Communist troops early in the Korean war.

Authoritative sources said the proposal had been advanced simultaneously but independently by army and air force officers when the bulk of the North Korean army was concentrated in a small area near the town of Suwon. Moral reasons entered into the decision.

SPARK BOX TROUBLE

The caveman cursed the flint that refused to start a fire. The motorist curses the battery or "spark box" that refuses to start the automobile. Don't be a "caveman motorist," say the California State Automobile Association. Have the car battery checked regularly, especially during the winter months, and avoid the inconvenience that a dead battery entails.

State Income More Than Expenditures

Increase in state revenue for the General Fund is higher than increase in expenditures for the first five months of this fiscal year.

Thomas H. Kuchel, State Controller, made this announcement today when issuing a statement on the cash condition of the State's General Fund at the close of business November 30.

The revenue increase for the period, Kuchel said, totaled $24,905,531, or 11.7 per cent over the corresponding period last year, while expenditures increased $13,600,316, or 6.43 per cent.

Cash excess in the General Fund over current obligations as of November 30, Kuchel announced, totaled $44,123,616, as compared with an excess of $16,152,869 on October 31. This cash excess compared with $65,938,663 on November 30, 1949.

Revenue increases to the General Fund were shown in all but three categories. These increases, as compared to the first five months of the previous fiscal year, totaled: Retail and Use Taxes, $24,158,395; Inheritance Tax, $1,827,425; Bank and Corporation Franchise and Income Taxes, $1,453,234; Pari mutuel fees, $861,376; Liquor Taxes, $817,667; Personel Income Taxes, $201,836; Gift Tax, $170,426; Private Car Tax, $5,918; Sundry other revenue, $482,193.

Decreases included: Interest on investments and treasury deposits, $3,126,600; Insurance Company Taxes, $1,949,925, Rayalties and other revenues from State Lands, $2,412.

Red Hot Pokers Defy Winter

The mildness of California's climate is evidence by a multitude of broadleaved evergreens which can be grown here, most of which are wholly impossible to grow in the eastern states.

Flowers of course are rare out of doors in winter, but even then we can find some plants that do not seem to mind the weather but bloom in the darkest, coolest and wettest season. An instance of this in Golden Gate Park's Strybing Arboretum is a variety of the Red-hot-poker, botanically enjoying the name "Kniphofia Vvaria var. semperflorens."

The ordinary kinds of "Red-hot-poker" are well known. They always flower during the summer when plenty of others are also blooming. But this one variety unfailingly yields its red and yellow spikes during November, December and January.

Ideal for cutting, the spikes last a long time in the house, and lend themselves ideally to the creation of distinctive flower arrangements. It may be seen in flower in the Strybing Arboretum on the slope near the south end of the main driveway.

Kids Whoop It Up

3,000 ATTEND D.C. CHRISTMAS PARTY

The anual Christmas Parties, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, were again a great success. With the splendid cooperation received from the managers of the theatres and the assistance of the various groups of ladies, firemen, and police, over 2500 children saw a nice show and had a swell time.

Santa Claus was present to take orders from the little kiddies as to what they would like to receive for Christmas. Speaking of Santa, we in the Recreation Department want to thank Mel Battye and Bill Tergis for the magnificent job they did in bringing happiness to the hundreds of wide-eyed youngsters to whom they spoke.

Manager Thanked

Mr. Jacabsen, Mr. Andersen, and Mr. Pappas, managers of the Crest, Daly City, and Serra Theatres respectively, are to be congratulated for their fine selections of film this year. Mrs. Ann Eason made a nice choice, too, in her selection of the "Hopalong" candy bar, because from all accounts the children loved them. Each child received a bar after the shows.

The following people are to be thanked for their part in this year's parties. Colma PTA, helping at the Crest Theatre; Mrs. Louis Bertetta; Mrs. Edward Dennis; Mrs. Marjorie Hopper; Mrs. William Hutchings; Mrs. H. Kern and Mrs. L. Benedetti. Mr. Linhares, from the Recreation staff, assisted the ladies with the assistance of two Daly City Firemen and one police officer. Mrs. Jacabsen lead the group in a community sing before the show. The Colma PTA is to be commended for their work, congratulations ladies.

PTA Helps

Serra Theatre's party was handled beautifully by the ladies of the James Snell PTA, Broadmoor police, Colma Firemen and Mike Orlich of the Recreation Department. Lou Nannini and his firemen are to be thanked for their time and assistance, too. Mrs. Don Hager, Mrs. Hugh Falkner and the many other ladies, whose names are not available, are to be thanked.

Last, and mightiest of all three parties, the Daly City Theatre party. Ladies from the Crocker and General Pershing PTAs and the Daly City Women's Civic Club helpe din handling the party for over 1700 children.

D.C. Helpers Available

The following names are the only ones available; so if any person is not listed, please excuse us and accept our thanks too. Mrs. Ann Eason, Mr. Lauffenburger, Mrs. R. Taxler, Mrs. M. Pabst, Mrs. A. Bradley and Mrs. D. Gensel. Other ladies helping were Mrs. Ed. Burnes, Mrs. J. Jordan, Mrs. Mullens, Mrs. Nestel and Mrs. C. Wittig. Mel Hansen and his firemen were indeed an asset to the party, for they kept the place in order. Many thanks to you and your men, Mel.

To all those who participated in the parties many thanks again and a Merry Christmas and a very Hapy New Year to all irom the Daly City Recreation Department.

VFW Post Donates Recorder To Vets

Veterans of Ward 11 in the Palo Alto Veteran's hospital were given a Christmas party last Saturday by the Twelfth District of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Among those present from Old Glory Post No. 2044 and the Auxiliary were Ray and Ruth Brulez, Ethel and Walter Dorn, Clarence Johnson and Franklin Ny.

Members of the Daly City post donated a record cutting machine to the hospital to be used by the patients in their rehabilitation work. Part of the expense of the machine was raised from donations and part from the sale of Buddy Poppies in May.

On behalf of the patients, a great big "thank you" is in order for all those who bought Poppies and donated money.

Meet our snowman...
He helps develop your State's resources!

This is Charles Hillis of San Jose, one of San Jose's pioneer printers. Along with nearly 170,000 other investors, he has put part of his savings in P.G. and E. stock. Through this investment we have been able to build the dams, powerhouses and miles of line necessary to develop the hydroelectric resources of the State and bring you electricity at rates among the lowest in the whole nation.

A lot of your next year's electricity and water supply are now shining snow packs high in the Sierra. Each year we send men by ski or helicopter to measure the water content of these packs so we can determine the reserve as a guide to control of the runoff in some 122 P. G. and E. lakes and reservoirs and 779 miles of canals. By this means we conserve every drop possible.

This water supplies you and some 2¼ million other P. G. and E. customers with electricity. But that is only part of the job. For we send this snow water along undiminished to the farms and orchards, homes and towns, and cities and industries where it contributes to the health and wealth of the State.

Now we'd like you to meet some folks who benefit by P.G. and E.'s development of the State's resources...

Meet Russell Keene, our snowman. Russ and other hydrographers go annually into the snow country to measure the pack. Russ plunges a 20-foot aluminum tube into the snow, then weighs it to determine the water content of the snow it brings up. From these measurements our hydro-engineers can estimate within 10% how much water will be available after the Spring thaws. Russ works out of Fresno. He was a ski-trooper in the last war, has been with us 5 years. In the background is one of the helicopters that can, in a matter of hours, land a snowman in rugged country that would take weeks to reach on skis.

P·G·and·E·
PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Meet John C. Gilbert, who operates a machine shop in Oroville. To merchants and businessmen like Gilbert, and folks who work nearby, P. G. and E.'s investment of over $100,000,000 in the Oroville and Feather River areas, and its annual payroll of over $550,000 have meant better living and a more prosperous community. And, incidentally, almost 20% of Butte County's annual property tax bill is paid by P. G. and E.

Here are Ernest Blaser and son, of Live Oak. Like some 50,000 other ranchers in our territory, the Blasers depend upon electric pumping for irrigation. Irrigation is in large part responsible for California farmers' annual income of around 2 billion dollars. Yet P. G. and E. power for farm pumping averages only 3.5% of crop production cost. Thus does P. G. and E. help develop the State's agricultural resources.

Legion Extends Greetings To All

Officers and members of Daly City Post No. 410, American Legion, today extended a wish of Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to one and all.

And in case you are interested in getting better acquainted with the Legion, the Hall at 474 San Diego is open every Saturday evening for friends and members.

Meanwhile, plans are going ahead for a pot-luck dinner to be held December 30 at 7 p.m. in the Hall. All those planning to attend are asked to dress in the appropriate New Years costume.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Kenneth and his accordian.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gilbert are chairmen for the event.

Serra Mothers Plan Parties

"An Afternoon for Serra" is the theme of a social afternoon scheduled January 23 as the year's major benefit event of Serra Mothers' Auxiliary.

On that day auxiliary members will open their homes throughout the Peninsula Area to a series of individual fund-raising card parties.

Plans for the event were made at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. R. L. Griffiths.

Mrs. Maurice McCormick, president of the auxiliary, appointed Mrs. Camille Rambaud head of the reservation committee who will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Sweyd.

Mothers who are unable to offer the use of their homes on January 23 from 1 to 4 p.m. will be requested to assist other nearby Afternoon for Serra hostesses. Or, according to Mrs. Rambaud they may fill tables at various card party locations.

Foursomes will be arranged for bridge, whist, canasta and other games.

The afternoon gatherings will replace the auxiliary's usual Christmas house tour, which was cancelled this year. Proceeds will be used for school needs, and first purchase of the auxiliary this year will be a micro-projector for the physics class.

The mothers' group will not meet this month, but will hold a business session and potluck luncheon January 17. Each member has been requested to bring a main dish, salad or dessert.

Xmas Program Slated For Sunday

A special Christmas message will be presented by Dr. William Harberts this Sunday at the Grace Presbyterian Church, Crocker and Winchester streets.

Following the service in the sanctuary there will be treats for the children in the Fellowship hall.

Parents and friends are welcome to attend.

Meanwhile, Sunday school will be held as usual at 9:45 a.m.

Choral Christmas Story Promised

In observance of its first anniversary the First Baptist Church, Colma, will present a choral Christmas Story December 24, at 7:15 p.m. at the Colma Community Center, Dunk Street.

The public has been invited to attend the program which will have visiting singers combined with those of the First Church. Rev. Calvin Rains, pastor, will preside. The Christmas story will be given by the choir accompanied by readers.

Abbott Street Folks Stage "Bull Session"

Another "bull session" of neighbors was held yesterday in the home of Mrs. Geraldine Vickers, 155 Abbott street.

The gathering has no official name although it is virtually a club.

Showing up for Wednesday's get-together were Eleanor Doyle, Mildred Radzikowski, Stella Seidel, Ann McNeahy, Wilma Van Aken, Lorraine Bovero, Sally Cambridge, Pat Urbanus, Ann Ornellas, Doris Olmanson, Shirley Matgen, Lillian Caime, Louella Jacobsen, Edna Mulle, Elizabeth Kirby and Diane Gravatt.

Sight Thrill

Homes Decorated In Xmas Attire

Decked out in gay attire, to paraphrase an old carol, Daly City and Westlake homes are truly something to see these evenings.

Young and old alike will get a real sight thrill merely by driving around the main section of Daly City and Westlake. And not to forget Broadmoor, many a home there is decorated in the Christmas sperit.

There is no direct route to follow, but generally there are more decorated homes in the vicinity of Hillside boulevarde in Daly City. Anywhere in Westlake or Broadmoor will afford viewers splended scenes of sChristma cheer over the house tops.

Although none of the homes are to be judged in Daly City, the case is different at Westlake where December 20 to 23, judges will award some $350 in cash prizes and awards for the best decorated homes.

Whist Game Postponed Until December 28

Christmas has forced the ladies of Hillcrest Circle No. 143, UAOD, to change the date of their regular Monday night whist.

Instead of December 25, the whist game is to be held Thursday evening, December 28, at the Masonic Hall, 17 Hillcrest drive. The game will get underway at 8:30 p.m. sharp.

All whist players are invited to attend.

New Presbyterian Church Dedicated Last Sunday

Sunday, December 17, was an important day for the congregation of the Grace Presbyterian Church, for then the new church at Crocker and Winchester streets was dedicated.

Although the new building was opened several weeks ago, the dedication ceremonies were put off until Sunday.

Officers and members of the San Francisco Presbytery had special parts in the services, which opened with a dedicatory message, "Laboring Together" by Lester F. Eisel, presbytery executive.

Neighboring pastors assisted with the service. The choir, under the direction of Miss Marian Walker, presented special music.

The pastor, Dr. William Harberts, read a large list of donations which were presented to the new Sanctuary. These were formally received by Harry K. Miller, chairman of the board of trustees.

SF Hums With Holiday Plans

San Francisco was humming with last minute plans and other holiday activities this week.

In Golden Gate Park, two large Christmas trees on each side of the Main Drive from Stanyan street were lighted, and the Star of Bethlehem atop a tall eucalyptus tree on the south side of Lindley Meadow, on the Main Drive off 30th Ave. and Fulton street, directed visitors to the annual Shepherd Pageant. Three Wise Men with a large flock of sheep participate in the pageant on the 50-acre meadow daily from 5 p.m. to midnight continuing through Sunday, Dec. 31.

Four massive Christmas trees in Union Square decorated with scraptin ornaments and glowing with lights will be the backdrop for the annual Christmas musical program to be broadcast from the Square between 5 and 5:30 p.m. over all stations of the NBC network. Florence Quartararo will be the featured soloist.

Judging of the gigantic firehouse Christmas decorations was under way this week. All 55 of the city's firehouses have participated in the competition which has attracted national attention.

Clickers Entertain

Hall Rocked With 150 Folk Dancers

The Calico Clickers entertained their many friends from the peninsula and San Francisco, at a pre-Christmas party Saturday evening, December 16, at Castle Hall.

More than 150 dancers filled the hall and danced til the wee small hours.

Giant Christmas Cards, made by each member, decorated the walls and sent their greetings to all. A beautiful fireplace and Christmas tree turned the hall into a cozy front parlor and greens and pine-cones completed the decorations.

Santa was there and called a Square to the joy of all the folk-dancer. Course Santa's voice had the strangely familiar ring of our friend and caller, "Randy" Randolph, and as he went out the door we heard echoing back—"Merry Christmas to all and to all a goodnite." And so do the Calico Clickers echo this same wish to everyone.

SM County To Get Highway Tax Funds

San Mateo county and the cities in the county are scheduled to get $1,221,879 this year, 1950-51, in highway user tax funds collected by the state, California Taxpayers' association reported today.

The county is to receive $767,819 of this sum and the cities $454,060.

For 1949-50, the estimated share of the county and the cities in the county in this fund was $1,057,133. Of this, the county got $665,232 and the cities $391,901.

Statewide, $67,332,184 of highway user tax funds is being shared with the counties and cities this year, with $48,388,054 going to the counties and $18,944,130 to the cities.

Last year, 1949-50, estimated apportionments totalled $62,565,528 of state-collected highway user tax funds for the counties and cities, with $45,044,728 to the counties and $17,520,800 to the cities.

"Since the war, the state, and the counties and cities in California, have stepped up street, road, and highway expenditures — and the taxes to pay for these expenditures have gone up, too," the Taxpayers' association pointed out.

Christmas Eve In San Francisco

Florence Quartararo, San Francisco's own Metropolitan Opera star, will be the guest soloist on the Down Town Association Christmas Eve musical program, Saturday, December 23rd.

Florence Quartararo was born in San Francisco just a little more than a score of years ago. Young and lovely, and steeped in the traditions of a city that loves art and above all loves music, Miss Quartararo today is San Francisco's favorite daughter.

Florence is San Francisco's greatest contribution to the musical in this generation. Her rise to stardom embodies all those dramatic elements associated with the heroines of fiction who unexpectedly graduate from understudy to prima donna overnight. Florence did this as a substitute for the great Traubel in Hollywood Bowl on a summer night in 1945.

Special Role

Florence Quartararo sings in Union Square on Christmas Eve in the role of a modern Tetrazzini to delight a nation-wide audience as well as the people of San Francisco.

An added attraction of the program will be The KNBC Christmas Choir, directed by William Gavin, which will feature a number of selections of Christmas music.

The KNBC Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Anthony Freeman and the Choir will accompany Quartararo, and will also be heard in individual numbers.

Staged

"Christmas Eve in San Francisco" will be staged in Union Square. The broadcast will start at 5 p.m. Saturday evening.

A preliminary concert of appropriate orchestral music through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 6, will commence at 3:30 p.m.

The program honors the tradition inspired by Tetrazzini in 1910 and revived by the Down Town Association in 1946.

All interested whist players are cordially invited to attend.

Officers and members of the San Francisco Presbytery will have special parts in the services, which will open with a dedicatory message, "Laboring Together" by Lester F. Eisel, presbytery executive.

Neighboring pastors will assist with the service. The choir, under the direction of Miss Marian Walker, will present special music.

Meanwhile, the morning services will be held as usual at 11 a.m. However, there will be a large number of persons to receive the sacrament of baptism in connection with the services.

CATHERINE WENTZ CHRISTENED SUNDAY

At christening ceremonies held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church last Sunday afternoon the 9-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wentz was named Catherine Irene Wentz.

While the Wentz family is now living in Niles, Mrs. Wentz is well known here. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rose Loomis, 115 Flournoy. This, by the way, is the first granddaughter, although not the first grandchild, for Mr. and Mrs. Loomis.

Named godparents at the christening were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Loomis, brother and sister-in-law respectively of the proud parents.

Mrs. Wentz also has a sister, Mrs. Alec Cameron, living in Tampa, Florida. Mrs. Cameron sent her best wishes, but was not able to attend the christening.

Daly City Marine Completes Basic

Marine Private First Class Charles W. Cuminskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cumiskey, of 728 Thornhill Drive, Colma, Calif., recently completed his recruit training here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, at which time he was advanced to his present rank.

The first three weeks of training here included instruction in small arms, first aid, field sanitation, map and compass reading and infantry drill. The next three weeks were spent at the rifle range where the new Marine learned the fundamentals of marksmanship, and during which time he fired for qualification with the Garand rifle.

The remaining weeks of his eight-week training period was boning on additional subjects necessary to a Marine. These included bayonet fighting, combat formations of a rifle squad, digging of fox holes and a series of field problems where practical experience was gleaned through the application of classroom work.

Private First Class Cumiskey, son of Lieutenant Colonel F. Cumiskey, United State Army, enlisted in the Marine Corps in October.

WESTLAKE WHIRL

by Marian Christians PLaza 5-0946

Some 500 Westlake children and their parents enjoyed the first Christmas party held by the Westlake Improvement Association last Sunday. The party was given in the auditorium of the Jefferson High school.

Everyone from the kids right up the ladder to Santa Claus enjoyed the festivities. And from the good turn out, many Association officials were of the opinion that the Christmas party can well turn into an annual affair for Westlake.

Frank and Vivian Gromm, 174 Lake Vista, are happy to announce arival of a 6 pound 11½ ounce baby boy, David William, December 17. The lad arrived at Stanford Hospital.

One thing is certain . . . the new baby won't lack for companionship in the Gromm home. Already one the scene is one other boy and a girl.

There have been numerous complaints lately about the loud blast of a horn issuing from a bakery truck which winds its way through Westlake each afternoon.

It isn't that the women mind the horn, but rather the time. The blasts come just as most of the younger children are taking their afternoon naps.

Can't something be done to change the time of the bakery truck's delivery?

Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Olsen of Seattle are spending the holidays at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. J. Christians, 102 Wilshire avenue.

Gearing for a total civilian defense set up in Daly City, Mayor Paul Green this week asked for volunteers to assist in Westlake. Anyone interested in serving in the capacity as district warden, auxiliary police and fire departments, and first aid training, is asked to call Association Secretary Harry Bosbery, 126 Westlawn avenue, PLaza 5-4592. (See page 1 for complete story on civilian defense.)

Meanest trick of the week: V. Larcombe of 49 Sheffield drive, reports that sometime Tuesday children swiped the Christmas decorations from the front of his home. Missing are two large candles, a wreath and several ornaments.

As a personal Christmas present to residents in Westlake, Henry Doelger this week mailed out 8x10 pictures of each resident's home. The beautiful pictures were in the form of Christmas cards, and were greatly welcomed by each and every Westlake home owner.

On behalf of all those unable to wish Mr. Doelger "Merry Christmas," let me take this opportunity to do so for all the residents.

Merry Christmas, Mr. Doelger.

Wild Land Fire Protection Part Of High State Cost

The cost of protecting the wild land of California from fire must be considered a part of the cost of living in the State, according to John A. Zivnuska and Keith Arnold, assistant professors of forestry at the University of California College of Agriculture.

About 46 million of California's 100 million acres of land are forest and brush, almost entirely mountainous, where the climate is marked by long summer droughts, high temperatures, low humidities and strong winds all of which intensify the fire hazards.

"California," the professors declare, "is the most difficult, important and expensive problem of forest fire control in the United States."

Wild Fires

Based on compilations prepared annually by the U. S. Forest Service, damage from wild fires in the State average more than 2½ million dollars annually during the period 1945-48, though such damage varies greatly from year to year as a result of climatic differences, adequacy of protection forces and the element of chance which is connected with fires and their discovery.

It has been estimated California lost approximately 91 million board feet of lumber annually in the decade 1934-43 through forest fires. In addition to the loss of merchantable tiber is the destruction of young growth, damage to range lands and damage to watersheds.

Complex Problem

The complexity of the protection problem is increased by the variety of conditions and ownerships found on the State's wild lands, as well as their proximity to and mingling with agricultural and urban lands.

About one half the 46 million acres is primarily federal lands in national forest and national parks and is protected from fire by federal agencies such as the U. S. Forest and National Park Services.

Under State law, protection of the nonfederally owned timberland and primary and secondary watersheds is accepted as State responsibility with the protection job delegated to the State Division of Forestry in the Department of Natural Resources.

In addition, six counties have chosen to protect their own wild land by county agencies and receive grants-in-aid, in lieu of direct protection. And finally, there are a number of special fire districts in some areas.

"Since the combination of wild land cover, climate and topography result in California's high fire danger, as well as its high productivity and desirability as a place to live," the professors conclude, "the cost of protecting the wild land from fire must be considered a part of the cost of living in California."

PROMISE OF BALL PLAYER EVIDENT HERE

Promise of a future ball player was evident today in the weight of Charles (Chuck) Ronald Yates, who weighed into the world December 7 at 9 pounds.

Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Goeffrey Yates, of Richmond. He arived at Mary's Help hospital at 3:45 a.m.

Daly City residents will remember Mrs. Yates as the former Shirley Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Junes, 368 Vista Grande. She is a graduate of Jefferson High school, and for several years taught physical education in the schols at Willets and Richmond.

This is the second child for the Yates. Already at home is 2½-year-old Coriennè Yates.

The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yates of Richmond.

Christmas Comes To Ward 11

OLD GLORY POST ENTERTAINS VETS

Christmas was brought to Ward 11 of the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital last Wednesday by members of the Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, VFW.

To the delight of some 97 patients, the women helped to decorate a Christmas tree and put on a variety act.

Assisting with the program was the Haywire Orchestra from the Colma Vista Grande Aerie 1848 FOE. After a brief "concert" the orchestra played dance music for the men who trod the boards with the women from the Auxiliary.

Partners

Other dance partners were from the Matelan Auxiliary No. 2068 VFW of San Mateo.

Doing their bit in the band were Joe Lewkowitz on the bull fiddle. Glen Minezer on the steel guitar and Duke Yurech on the accordian.

Mrs. Clara Sirex of San Carlos played the piano, for Foofie Poket who did acrobatic dances.

As a rule when entertaining the patients of a veteran's hospital, the patients must keep regular hours and all entertainment must be completed by 9 p.m. However, the Haywire band, with the help of a drummer patient, were doing the men so much good that the doctor in charge asked the group to stay an extra 15 minutes.

Those Present

Members from the Daly City Auxiliary who were present included: Marjorie Johnson, Mary Conti, Ruth Brulez, Ethel Dorn, Catherine McKeown, Clara Poket and Shirley Walker.

Monday evening Walter Dorn of Old Glory Post No. 2044 and Mesdames Dorn, Conti and McKeown from the Auxiliary, helped trim the Christmas tree at the hospital.

Colma PTA Helps With Xmas Party

The Colma PTA in cooperation with the Daly City Recreation Department assisted at the Crest Theatre Monday, December 18, with the Christmas Program. Mrs. Louis Bertetta, chairman, Mrs. Marjorie Hoper, co-chairman, and Mrs. Edw. J. Dennis.

The Executive Board meeting was held Tuesday, December 19, at 2 p.m.

Since the Christmas vacation is on and school has turned out some hundreds of school children on the neighborhoods, our Safety Chairman, Mrs. Wm. Clark, cautions all the people to be especially careful and to watch out for the children, especially during the early dark hours of the evening and also crossing the streets.

Mrs. Stella L. Jensen, counselor, and Mrs. Marporie Hopper, president, attended the Seventeenth District Meeting in Brisbane Monday, December 11. A lovely luncheon was served by the ladies of the Brisbane PTA and the young people of the Brisbane School.

Mrs. Dills was the surprise of the meeting our District President promised us. She gave a resume of the trip as she experienced it in Europe and the pilgrimage to Rome. It was very interesting and gave us an idea of all wishing to see the places the famous people once lived.

Santa Comes To The Serra

As a part of a gala Christmas for the children of the School District, the Daly City Recreation Department sponsored an afternon at the movies for the schools of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

The Serra Theatre was the scene of the festivities for the children of the Garden Village School and Our Lady of Perpetual Help School. Chairman Mrs. Kenneth Brugge and co-chairman Mrs. Don Hager report a smash success.

Some 600 children attended the party, and, of course—Santa Claus, who visited with the children in the lobby and listened to their requests. The Hopalong Cassidy film "Borderland" and a cartoon were shown, and a community sing was hugely enjoyed by all.

In coperation with the Recreation Department, headed by Mr. Elman Rose, the James L. Snell PTA Unit supplied the ladies who took the tickets and passed out the candy bars at the exit. Members of the Fire Department were also on hand, not only to keep order, but to supply a little local color.

Markovich Named To County Group

Peter Markovich, member of the Jefferson high school board, was named this week to the San Mateo County Trustees Association committee to survey school district organization in the county.

The appointment of Markovich, and two other county men to the committee, was the only official business transacted at the association's annual meeting last Saturday held in honor of Pansy Jewett Abbott.

Miss Abbott is retiring after 25 years service as county superintendent of schools.

The committee on which Markovich will serve stressed the need for expediting new school buildings and the desirability of building plans prepared by the state and made available to each district.

Man or Martian?

By ROBERT SAXON—ANS

In an attempt to prove that a man could get off one of the famed "Flying Saucers" any day, and walk the streets of a big U. S. city unmolested and practically unnoticed, the editors of Galaxy Magazine, leading journal in the science-fiction field, turned a "man with green skin" loose in New York.

The result—they proved their point conclusively.

"Oh, I'll bet it's for color television," was one lady's comment, made with thoughtfully knitted brow.

A man who was told the grim figure was a Martian, mopped his brow in relief and said, "Gosh, I thought he was a psycho."

"We don't know whether the 'Flying Saucers' are from another planet or not," said the editors of Galaxy tersely, "but if they are, their crew members could land anywhere and no one would pay them any attention. They could even be among us now."

Flying Flowers

When you take to the airways, you will be younger than springtime with a winter corsage. Laraine Day, star of screen and TV, selects a colorful, dashing accessory created from daisy mums and bright pompons, made crisp and gay with a stalk of wheat.

According to Alyn Wayne, style expert of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Ass'n., each tailored suit should have its own flower piece. He reminds every girl that whether she is soaring in the winter blue or walking among rustling leaves, exciting afternoons require interesting accents to the ensemble. For late season football games designer Wayne suggests a single large chrysanthemum. This may be replaced by a corsage of smaller blossoms at the game party.—ANS Features.

Christmas Candles Have Been Used By Many Peoples

It would be astonishing, indeed, if no candles appeared in homes throughout the nation on Christmas Eve. The legend which surrounds the custom is believed to have started in Ireland.

There on Christmas Eve a large candle was burned which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary. As the Irish put it: "Who knows, on some Christmas Eve, Jesus and Mary and Joseph may come again, not to Palestine, but to the Holy Isle on the fartherest edge of Europe?"

Their first use for Christmas is not recorded in the annals of any nation, but that the "Christ Child Candle", burned in the window of Christmas Eve is, according to an old legend, placed there to light His way if He makes an earthly visitation and in atonement for the night of His birth when there was no room for Him.

Also among the legends is one about bayberry candles burned on Christmas.

During the early history of our country, animal fats were relatively scarce. The branches of the bayberry shrub were covered with waxgiving berries and children were given the task of gathering the berries when candles had to be made so that the animal fats could be conserved.

According to tradition, one who burned a bayberry candle on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day would have long life and a happy one.

An old verse reads:

"To learn you luck for the year they say,
Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas day.
If the flame burns bright and the light shines clear,
Good luck will be yours throughout the year."

OBITUARY

Jack Johnson

One of Daly City's earliest settlers, and for years custodian of Jefferson High school, is dead today.

Jack Johnson, 72, 47 Wilson street, died Monday. His death followed a two month's heart ailment.

A well known figure around Jefferson High school, Johnson was even better known in Daly City where he had lived for the past 40 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Angela Johnson, and sons Mario of San Francisco; Joseph of Daly City, and Natale of Los Angeles.

The rosary for Johnson was recited Tuesday evening in the W. C. Lasswell & Co. chapel. Requiem high mass was celebrated for Johnson at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church Wednesday morning.

Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery.

A VOTE FOR BETTE DAVIS

By RIDGELY CUMMINGS

Once, about ten years ago when I was writing movie reviews for a small-town daily, I wrote a rare review about Actress Bette Davis' performance, then clipped it and sent it to her care of her studio. With it went a note expressing my willingness to write her next scenario.

Strangely enough I received a reply, presumably written by her secretary though Miss Davis' name was signed to it, telling me about the bitter life and hard times of a writer in Hollywood and urging me to stay where I was.

I didn't take her advice but I've retained a soft spot for Miss Davis every since.

Consequently I am pleased to report that my vote for this year's Oscar, which doesn't count, goes to her for her perforance in "All About Eve."

Before I went to see "Eve" I had been slightly prejudiced against it by a knowledgable friend who warned me it was just a good imitation of "Sunset Boulevard."

It was nothing of the sort.

Middle-Aged Rivals

True there were certain superficial resemblances. Both pictures served as vehicles for accomplished middle-aged actresses, Gloria Swanson being the party of the second part. And "All About Eve" did for the Broadway stage what "Sunset Boulevard" did for a sector of Hollywood, holding up the milieu and the people therein to the searching scrutiny of an adult mind.

But there the similarity ends and "Eve" came through as a far superior work of art, free of the bathos and soppy sentimentality that marred the closing portions of Miss Swanson's great performance.

If the balloting for the best acting of the year narrows to these two, Miss Davis should win hands down.

"All About Eve" was written and directed by Joseph L. Mankiewicz. I wouldn't want to swear to the spelling of his last name for it is a difficult combination of letters to write down in the dark and screen credits, though notoriously lengthy when the film is boring and you don't much care who is responsible, always flicker past too quickly when the names are important but hitherto unfamiliar. Perhaps the movie houses ought to start handing out programs with cast listings and credits the way legit houses do.

6,000 Writing

Mr. Mankiewicz did a superlative job, particularly in the writing. The dialogue is at times sharp and cruel, at other times hilarious- funny and full of understanding and sympathy.

Briefly—though the picture is far from brief and lasts more than two hours—briefly, Mr. Mankiewicz tells the story of a girl named Eve who rises to Broadway stardom through ability, hard work and a lucky break plus lying, cheating, treachery and other reprehensible actions.

Anne Baxter played the title role to perfection and looked younger, more accomplished and more beautiful than she was when I saw her in "The Razor's Edge" some years ago.

Much of the action takes place in a theatre. I thought this particular setting looked familiar and when the movie was half way through I remembered why. It was San Francisco's old Geary theatre that was used, or maybe the Curran, for they are so close together it is easy to get them mixed.

I recalled the photos and interviews in the papers when Miss Davis and her troupe came to town but never gave a thought to the possibility that she might be making a great movie rather than a routine "B" opus. That was nearly a year ago when she was in the middle of an unpleasant divorce fight with a boxer-painter who claimed she needed psychiatric help and vice versa, that is she said the same of him, and I never believed her capable of such a comeback as she made in "Eve."

But she was. Mis Davis' part is obviously modelled on the personality of Tallulah Bankhead and she captures it even to the husky basso profundo voice, adding many character shadings of her own.

Another who did well in this film and may be mentioned when Academy Awards come round was George Sanders, magnificent as a cold, sophisticated drama critic with one flaw in his armor of worldliness.

Now that I'm out on a limb I'll be watching with interest to see who gets the Oscars. It will be fun to say "I told you so."

INCREASED HAZARDS

More hours of darkness, slippery streets, and poor visibility during rainy weather, are now adding to the normal driving hazards, points out the National Automobile Club. These increased hazards call for increased care. If you will walk more carefully and drive more carefully, you will help keep yourself safe.

Give A Pint—Save A Life

KOREAN FIGHTERS NEED YOUR BLOOD

The "give a pint and save a life campaign" being conducted by the American Red Cross must continue in unabated manner if needed supplies of whole blood and plasma are to be available daily for use of the American military men wounded in Korean warfare. This is the word going out today from the San Mateo County Chapter of the Red Cross which is recruiting blood donors.

The Red Cros urges all able bodied men and women, between 18 and 60 years of age, to "save a life of a fighting man by being a blood donor."

Emphasis is placed on the need of continued ready response to the plea for blodo donors.

Casualty lists are growing and this means even greater numbers of blood transfusions on roadsides, in field hospitals and at military base hospitals, the Red Cross points out.

Program

The "give a pint and save a life" program is being carried out here in conjunction with the san Mateo County Blood Bank. The bank has increased its technical staff to meet the demands of the armed forces so that its service to local hospitals will not be slowed down.

All blood drawn at the county bank on days assigned to the Red Cross is processed for sole use of the war wounded and given into the care of the Red Cross couriers to processing laboratories and to Army planes.

Committed

The Red Cross and the county blood bank are committed to supply 600 pints of blood this month as its quota to the armed forces. To insure this and even a greater amount which is indicated by the stepped up list of war wounded in recent days, patriotic residents of the community are asked to telephone DI. 3-4561 and arrange to "give a pint and save a life" by becoming a blood donor for the armed forces.

The program is to be for a full hour on both radio and television. On the CBS radio network it will be broadcast from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. EST Sunday, December 31. The CBS television network will carry the feature from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. EST on New Year's Day, January 1.

Show Similar

The show is similar to the outstanding "Mid-Century" program which Chevrolet dealers sponsored last New Year's Day, but is to be even more dramatic in scope and presentation. Ten of Columbia's best known foreign correspondents and news analysts will be in New York, the majority flown from their far-flung posts especially for the broadcast. Heading the group and acting as chairman will be Edward R. Murrow, crack CBS news reporter and analyst.

The program will give a roundup of facts and opinions from the entire world concerning the critical condition of civilization today, where we have been during the past year and the outlook for the future.

Recorded interviews with prominent statesmen and "men on the street" from all over the world will add dramatic interest. On television, films, animated maps and diagrams will give visual impact to the authoritative discussions of the world outlook.

SF Man's Elbow Leads To Injury

Recovering from a dislocated right shoulder and head bruises today is a San Francisco man who learned the hard way that it isn't safe to lean on a car door handle.

Gino Paolini, 38 Jessup street, San Francisco, was sitting beside Neil Vannucci, 33 Cliffside drive, in a pick up truck Monday. The two men were driving through Westlake to a contract job.

Suddenly the door next to Paolini flew open, and the next second the San Francisco man was sprawled out on the street.

Taken to Junipero Serra hospital he was treated for his injuries.

Police report Paolini leaned just a little too hard on the car door handle.

Navy Reservists May Volunteer

Reservists apply for active duty under this program must meet the same mental and physical requirements as required for first enlistments in the Regular Navy. Men accepted under this program will receive eleven weeks recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. Upon completion of recruit training they will be assigned to duty aboard a Navy ship or Station.

STOOPS TO HEAD BAY AREA DEFENSES

Harry H. Stoops, 44-year-old Berkeley man, is the new regional civil defense director for the nine county San Francisco Bay Area today.

WHITEMORE TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

In preparation for taking office January 8, Ear lB. Whitmore, San Mateo County's new sheriff-elect, took the oath of office Monday.

A note of interest was added to the ceremony when the oath was administered by A. S. Whitmore, Redwood City attorney and father of the new sheriff. The elder Whitmore was once sheriff of Tazewell County, Illinois.

TRY SEAT ADJUSTMENT

There is one adjustment of the seat that not only is the most comfortable but brings the various driing controls within the range of quickest handling which means greater safety, declares the National Automobile Club. It will pay to experiment with the seat adjustment of the new car until that one is found that is precisely right. Too many motorists are content with a setting of the seat that is only an approximation of the correct adjustment.

TONTO MONUMENT

Tonto National Monument, located just east of Roosevelt Dam on the Apache Trail in Arizona, reported by the National Automobile Club to contain prehistoric cliff-dwellings that are in an excellent state of preservation.

BEARINGS NEED A BATH

One unit of the automobile that National Automobile Club service experts find universally escape the attention of the motorcar owner is the read wheel bearings. It is a money-saving aspect of car care to have these bearings serviced regularly in accordance with the car's lubrication chart.

Drive carefully during the Christmas Season, advises the National Automobile Club.

HOLIDAY DRIVING

Holiday time is celebrating time and that often means drinking. Don't forget the old warning, "If you drive, don't drink, and if you drink, don'tdrive," says the California State Automobile Association.

WHEEL LUBRICATION

Failure to have the automobile wheel bearings regularly lubricated may result in their becoming seriously worn and damaged, warns the California State Automobile Association. Attempting to correct worn bearings by overdoing the lubrication after the damage has occurred often leads to even more serious trouble.

ALERTNESS

Be alert at intersections, even when on a through street. A driver coming along a side street may miss the stop sign and even if you have the right of way it won't make the collision any more pleasant, warns the California State Automobile Association.

OPEN YOUR HEART TO SAVE A HEART

Contributions Will Extend Life Of Man In Next Generation 10 Years

OPEN YOUR HEART —2 col .....

In the reasonably near future man's useful life will be extended from five to 10 years thanks to unusual strides now being made in the study of heart disease, an international expert on the heart declared this week at the launching of a $100,000 campaign in San Francisco to finance research and a community education program.

Speaking before 60 executives, business and civic leaders, Dr. William J. Kerr, chief of the heart division and chairman of the Division of Medicine of the University of California School of Medicine, the heart specialist described new surgery techniques and an education program which would add to man's useful life.

"A heart attack once meant certain retirement from business and living in general," he said, "but we now known differently. One example is a bank, similar to an eye bank, in which blood vessels are donated and may be transplanted in the heart.

'Such a bank exists in San Francisco," he added.

Stages

Chairman Jud said the campaign is in the organization stages at the present time. The drive proper, he said, would commence on February 1 with its intensive period from Valentine's Day until March 1.

In describing the program, Dr. Sokolow said that the official record makes heart disease the number one killer in the nation today. In the age group from 35 to 54, it accounts for 35.9 deaths and in the age group from 57 to 74, it accounts for 51.8 deaths.

In San Francisco—and in every city—where the pace of living is fast, heart disease is ever present. Since it respects no age nor income group heart disease is the business of everyone who values life, health and happiness, he declared.

This money, he declared, will buy new hope for hearts.

Men Wanted For Defense Corps

The 14th Battalion of the California Defense and Security Corps will be expanded to five rifle companies instead of the usual three, as a result of President Truman's proclamation putting the nation on an emergency basis, according to Lt. Col. Leo Connolly, commander of this group.

American citizens between the ages of 17 and 70 are eligible for membership. Retire officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, and others not subject to the draft, are urged to enlist without delay. Any drill pay which the State may authorize will not detract from Federal retirement pay or pensions.

Until further notice, meetings are held every Wednesday evening in the National Guard Armory, 420 PPeninsula Ave., San Mateo. Vacancies exist in all ranks and in all companies. Full details may be obtained at the Armory any week day and on Wednesday evening.

Similar units of the California Defense and Security Corps are rapidly being organized in San Francisco, Sonoma, Marin and Mendocino counties.

Make Your Own Christmas Gifts!

The real spirit of Christmas isn't spending money for elaborate gifts, but rather giving something of one's self. And no present means more to the recipient than that which reflects a good cook's handiwork.

Here are two thoughtful ideas from Florida that illustrate home-made Christmas gifts right down to the tinsel and the wrappings.

Florida Marmalade

1 large Florida grapefruit	Water
2 large Florida oranges	Sugar (about 6 cups)

Cut Florida grapefruit and orange peel in eight lengthwise sections. Remove peel; cut into thin strips. Cover peel with water; boil 5 minutes. Drain; repeat process twice. Dice pulp, discarding core and seeds. Combine diced pulp with drained peel; measure. Add twice that amount of water; bring to a boil and cook rapidly 30 minutes. Measure; add an equal amount of sugar for each cup of pulp. Bring to boiling point, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook mixture rapidly, stirring frequently to prevent scorching, until thick and clear, about 25 minutes; pour into hot sterilized glasses. Seal with hot paraffin immediately. YIELD: 10 6-ounce glasses.

Florida Orange Bread

½ cup Florida orange rind (3 Florida oranges)	1 cup Florida orange juice
¾ cup sugar	1 egg, well beaten
¼ cup water	2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon butter or margarine	2 teaspoons baking powder
	¼ teaspoon soda
	½ teaspoon salt

½ cup chopped pecans

Wash oranges; dry. Remove the thin orange rind with a sharp knife, cutting around the orange; cut rind into very thin slivers with scissors. Combine sugar and water, add the rind; stir constantly over heat until the sugar is dissolved; cook slowly about 5 minutes. (The peel and syrup should measure 2/3 cup.) Add butter; stir until melted; add orange juice and beaten egg. Sift together into mixing bowl, flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Mix in pecans. Add orange mixture and mix just enough to moisten ingredients. (Batter should be lumpy.) Turn into greased loaf pan 9½ x 4½ x 3 inches. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until done. Turn out on rack to cool. YIELD: 1 loaf.

BEAR REVIEW

Lyn O. Waldorf is writing a new era in California football . . . the second one in Golden Bear annals.

It's about time, too.

Before Pappy hauled his carcass to Berkeley, the Bear were in pretty sad shape. For year and years.

For some reason, California students woke up in 1946 and decided the biggest school in the world should have a representative football team.

Old Wrank Wickhorst, the coach that year, must still feel the pain of getting kicked out. Wick lasted quick. Wick lasted quick. He finished out the season and was asked out forever.

Pappy is a pretty hard gent to find fault with. Next week's Pasadena rumpus is Cal's third consecutive Rose Bowl trip. A 39-14 loss to U.S.C. in Waldorf's maiden year, 1947, kept them from four for four.

After four seasons in office, Pappy's record is 38 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie. That's .926 in anybody's league.

The Bears' other two losses, aside from the '47 U.S.C. spoiler, came on New Years Day to Northwestern, 20-14, and Ohio State, 17-14, in order.

At the rate Waldorf is rolling, he's building a monster for years to come. California is victory happy and they don't intend to have any panty-waist teams anymore, no sir. They're Big Time for keeps or they'll know the reason why. Berkeley was called a coaches graveyard once, but you've got to have a corpse in order to bury. Pappy is healthy in more ways that one. And opposing teams henceforth will wear thin their black garments of mourning. Not the Berkeley crowd.

Cal's modern day emergence as a national grid power has the makings of another spurt to prominece in football. Shades of Andy Smith, 1915-1925.

Smith authorer California's initial rise in the autumn sport.

His 10-year stay at Berkeley, ended by his death in 1926, was a remarkable tenure. He never had a losing season. And his ledger read 74 wins, 16 defeats, and 7 ties. Exceptional.

Smith is one-up on Waldorf in comparing their respective records. Under Smith, the Bears won 1 and tied 1 (no losses) in the Rose Bowl. The '20 squad blasted Ohio State, 21-0, and the '21 powerhouse tied Washington & Jeferson, 0-0. Smith was invited again in '22 but decided to let U.S.C. have a crack at it.

Waldorf has arrived early as a "winner," so his term has plenty of time to reach Smith-like proportions. Beginning with the Michigan tiff on January 1.

Between the Smith and Waldorf regimes, the Bears were no great shucks at pigskinning.

Clarence "Nibs" Price succeeded Smith in '26 and was head man for five years. His contribution was 27 wins, 17 losses and 3 ties. He had three above-average seasons and two sub-par ones.

"Navy" Bill Ingram was next . . . on the block. He had four fairly successful elevens but nothing outstanding. Overall, Ingram departed with 28 wins 14 losses and 3 ties.

"Stub" Allison took over for the Sailor and mentored Cal 1935 through 1944. Allison whipped along at a good clip for a while, including '38 R. B. win over Alabama, but sagged at the finish. His top effort was the unbeaten, oncetied 1937 aggregation. That club clubbed Alabama, 13-0. Allison's 10 year slate was 58 wins, 42 losses and 2 ties.

Lawrence B. Shaw was pro-tem coach in war-ruined '45 and walked out with 4-5-1.

TEAM OF YEAR

On most polls, Oklahoma's undefeated Sooners were named as "Teams of The Year, 1950." Bud Wilkinson's team becomes the first Big Seven or midlands squad to win the official honor.

The parctice of selecting a "Team of the Year" originated in 1924.

Notre Dame has won the honor eight times. Minnesota is runner-up with four national championships.

U.S.C. and Stanford hold national championships. The Trojans wer efirst in '28, '31, and '39. Pop Warner's '26 Indian eleven was the best in the land that year.

FRANK & KNUTE

Many folks who have supported Frank Leahy as another Knute Rockne were shocked this year with N. D.'s mediocre 4-4-1 record. The Irish, with their material, shouldn't have any excuses. They lost because they couldn't win. Very simple.

Leahy is still in Rockne's class. The old master's star pupil has a ten year record of 84 wins, 9 losses, and 6 ties. Percentage of .903.

Rockne's status for 13 seasons was 105 wins, 12 defeats and 5 ties. Percentage of .897.

Lehy's a youngster, yet. And that "bad" season is out of his system.

ROSE BOWL KICK-OFF LUNCHEON SET DEC. 29

The Kiwanis Club's annual Rose Bowl Kick-Off Luncheon will be held on Dec. 29 this year at the site of the football classic it celebrates.

John Biggar, luncheon chairman, announced the move to the Rose Bowl is being made to accommodate more people than the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, previous location, is able to hold.

The luncheon, formerly limited to adult male football fans, will be open this year to fans of both sexes and all ages.

Master of ceremonies of the program will be Red Barber, noted radio sports announcer, who will broadcast the Rose Bowl contest between Michigan and California on Jan. 1.

Featured on the program, which is to be broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System, will be coaches from the two competing universities, the Tournament of Roses Queen and her court, and many sports writers, former grid heroes and football dopesters.

SCORING POINTS

By CARL REICH

The football story of the decade began to develop in 1947.

Members of the University of Wyoming board of trustees probably didn't realize the significance of that meeting. But they knew they must make a decision—either the school should abolish football, or it should make another of a series of attempts to get a winning team.

The trustees reviewed the university's sorry record—on 70 victories and ten ties in 283 games since 1898. Wyoming hadn't defeated Utah University since 1900, and except for a 9-9 tie in 1921, had lost 29 straight games to Denver University.

The Cowboys failed to score a point in 1913, and dropped 16 consecutive starts. Again in 1922, only a win in the season finale partially saved face for a team that had gone scoreless in eight starts.

The school had decided to go "big time" before but the efforts met failure. William H. "Lone Star" Dietz, of the Carlisle Indian School, arrived with a group of "tramp athletes" in 1925. After wining five straight, his team finished with a 6-3 record, and two mediocre seasons later, Dietz fled from his toughest job.

To understand the school's problem, you must be briefed on the weather and topography of Laramie, seat of the University. Located 7,000 feet above sea level, Laramie is a windswept and desolate place when the snow begins to fly.

The state's population of 300,000 persons doesn't produce enough good high school football players. And surrounding states with better weather and superior "character building" assets always take many of the most promising Wyoming preps.

When the school tried bringing in out of state athletes few survived the vigorous winters, animosity of the townspeople toward a losing team and student lethargy. Often the squad was down to as fe was 24 players midway in the season.

Anyhow, the trustees voted to hire Bowden Wyatt, former University of Tenneesee All America end. He brought four high pressure assistants and a group of southern and midwestern players to Laramie.

"Wait unti the snow flies," said the wise guys. "They'll head back for the sunny south—and take Wyatt with them."

But they were wrong. Wyatt's teams won four of nine games in 1947, and four of nine the following year. And the southern boys stayed in Laramie, despite the wind and snow.

The Cowboys "arrived" last year. They defeated the University of Utah for the first time since 1900, and squared accounts for all those losses to Denver. Baylor ruined a perfect season with a 27-7 victory, but the Cowboys got revenge this season.

A 7-0 decision over Baylor and eight other victories without defeat boosted Wyatt's record to 26 wins and 11 losses in four years and earned the team the ranking as No. 12 football power in the country.

The school whose squads formerly would have experienced difficulty in beating a good prep team also will be represented in a bowl game opponent in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville.

Go you Cowboys! YI-HOOOOO!

Roy Hurlbert, Ace Record Reporter, Leaves Paper For The School Rooms

Gloom settled over the office of the Daly City Record today as Roy Hurlbert, ace Daly City sports writer, anounced he's giving up his position with this paper.

The announcement comes on the heels of a report of a report that Roy wishes to complete a major in journalism at San Jose State College. With any luck at all (and the blessings of Professor Dwight Bentel) Roy will be out in the cold world again August 1, 1951.

Promises

Meanwhile, the readers of the sports page must suffer in peace. The only gleam of light is Roy's promise that he will continue to enliven the sheet with his scintillating column "Off The Record." He'll turn out this masterpiece while studying for his Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Over the past 12 weeks, Hurlbert has been doing his best to inject life into the sports page. Readers seem to think he's done a good job.

And well they might. For what man can compare with Hurlbert's experience in the world of footballs, baseballs, and pop bottles? He's a life time member of the Tiajuana Athletic Club . . . plays third base when he's not imitating radio stars.

Wide Experience

Hurlbert also has had some experience in the field of entertaining the gals at San Francisco City College where he put in two years before entering San Jose. No one seems sure what part women have in sports, but Roy's sly smile probably holds the answer.

Brewery Bound

While struggling through school Roy also has had some extra-curricular experience in a brewery. For the past several years he's done his best to put a famous San Francisco brewery in the red by downing most of its products before they reached the consumer.

Yes, readers and members of the staff of the Daly City Record are indeed sorry to see this stalwart lad return to school. Blessings on you Roy, and may you have enough sense to give up journalism for a nice sane career such as a mortician or putty factory foreman.

State Takes 709 Predatory Animals

The State's trappers and hunters took a toll of 709 predatory animals during the month of October, according to a report of the California Division of Fish and Game. Five lion hunters bagged four mountain lions.

Trappers and hunters put in 624 working days, made 23,570 sets and travelled 18,899 miles.

Leading the list of predators eliminated were 188 foves, 49 of which were taken in Los Angeles County. Coyotes totalled 165, and bobcats, 100.

Many Holiday Highlights Now At Your YWCA

More than 30 Christmas parties were planned and held for this holiday season by members, classes, and clubs of the San Francisco YWCA "Hanging of the Greens" parties have been held by several groups, transforming the 620 Sutter Street YWCA into a truly Christmas atmosphere, inside and out.

Monday noon, December 18, the Group Work and Recreation Council was feted with a Sukiyaki luncheon served by the Arbees at the YMCA-YWCA Buchanan Street Center. On the program was "Family Portrait" given by Mrs. S. Marshall Kempner, member of the Board of Directors. Children from the Center put on a variety of entertainment, including a Nisei dance.

Wives Party

Y-Wives gave a Christmas Party for their children in the Nursery at the 620 Sutter Street YWCA Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. Virginia Lippincott was chairman for the event, which included a visit from old Saint Nick, gifts, games, and refreshments.

The Wednesday Club, for young adults and servicemen between the ages of 18 and 24, planned a novel "Turnabout" theme for their Christmas party on Wednesday, December 20. Members and guests arrived at the 620 Sutter Street building dressed backwards, took the back elevator to the 3rd floor rear. Games and refreshments were planned to carry out the theme, with prizes for the "best dressed."

Also in a party mood on Wednesday evening were the Poly Y-Teens who celebrated with a dance in the Gym at 8 p.m.

Fireside Party

An informal Fireside Party with an exchange of gifts highlighted the end of the year for the Bizpro Club, a group of young business and professional girls in San Francisco. The Fireside party was held at the 620 Sutter Street YWCA, starting at 8 p.m., on Thursday, December 21.

The Young Adult Club at the Clay Street Center, a coed group, is planning their Christmas Dance for tonight, December 22. Held at the 965 Clay Street Center, the party will include games and refreshments in the holiday mood.

TIME TO REGISTER

Non-Resident Vehicles Should Be Registered

Owners of non-resident vehicles who expect to register them in California next month were advised today to consult immediately with Department of Motor Vehicles representatives regarding requirements.

A. H. Henderson, Director of Motor Vehicles, explained that this will enable such owners to assemble all necessary papers and thus avoid delays and possible penalties.

In general, owners of non-resident motor vehicles must present a title and registration card from the state of registration. If from a non-title state, a completely documented chain of ownership of the vehicle must be presented with the registration card.

Lacking either a title or a documented chain of ownership, such owners may submit an indemnity bond for the value of the vehicle.

The Department also will issue, if desired, a "no ownership" registration which enables the vehicle to be operated in California without issuance of a pink ownership certificate.

The Department is currently mailing potential registration cards to all owners of vehicles registered in California. They indicate fees due for 1951 and must be presented for validation between January 2 and midnight February 5, 1951, to avoid penalty. Payment of fees in person using the potential registration card will enable the motorist to obtain his new 1951 license plates and registration card immediately. Mailed renewals, which should be addressed to the Department of Motor Vehicles, 1220 N St., Sacramento, will take longer.

Success Or Failure Of County TB Drive To Be Decided In Coming Week

All California Vets Should Apply For Home Program

A veteran in San Mateo County who was a California resident at the time he entered military service or who was born in this State has a very good reason for filing without delay his application for eligibility for the State's low-cost farm and home financing program. Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo County, who makes this statement, explains the reason this way:

"The State Military and Veterans Code provides that if a veteran dies after establishing his eligibility for the Farm and Home Purchase Program benefits, his widow may be able to make use of those benefits. If he has failed to file an application, however, there is no provision in the law by which his widow can get this Many veterans, according to Gran-low-interest home financing." ger, wait until they are ready to submit farms or homes for appraisal b ythe State Department of Veterans Affairs before applying for their certificate of eligibility. By this delay, he said, they risk depriving their family of this valuable State benefit.

Forms

The application form, copies of which are available at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City, is a simple one. It is sent to Sacramento along with a copy of the veteran's discharge, and the certificate of eligibility is mailed to the veteran, to be retained by him until he actually enters into contract with the State for purchase of a farm or home.

Under the State program, an eligible and qualified veteran (or his widow, if he has established eligibility and subsequently died) may be advanced up to $7500 on the purchase of a home which qualified under the appraisal limitations governing the "Cal-Vet" program. Interest on the purchase contracts is currently 3 per cent, Granger reported. In addition, the contract-holder enjoys a substantial saving on fire insurance. A low-cost Home Protection Plan of Life Insurance provides clear title to the property for the veteran's family in the event of his death before the contract is paid in full.

"It does no harm, and may do a tremendous amount of good, to have an application on file and approved," Granger concluded. "Actually, there are more than 150,000 World War II veterans who have taken this step without intending for some time yet to submit property for State financing."

Further information and an explanatory booklet are available to interested veterans at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City.

England's Puritans Banned Christmas As Frivolous Time

Christmas was outlawed in England by the Puritan government of England in 1643 and, although the restoration of the Stuarts brought a revival of Christmas customs and traditions, Christmas never regained its former prestige in England.

It is observed religiously in the churches and as a day for family reunions and social gatherings, in contrast to the lavish feasting and boisterous merry-making of olden times.

Merry-making and gift-giving come in for their share, however, on December 26 which is Boxing

Day. The origin of Boxing Day antedates Christmas and can be traced to the custom of gift-giving during the Roman festival of Saturnalia.

In Christian liturgy December 26 is observed as the feast of St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr, and during the centuries when journeymen and apprentices were in the habit of levying upon their masters' customers, 'Christmas Boxes' were collected on St. Stephen's day.

Thus, the children receive their presents, in boxes, as do old servants, the postman, and everyone else. And reminiscent of the Roman Saturnalia, householders dance with the servants and, toward evening, there is revelling in the streets as groups of merry-makers gather on street corners or ride about London-town dancing on the 'flats' of trucks.

The coming week will press a crucial time in which the succe or failure of the 1950 Tuberculo Christmas seal sale in San Mat county will be determined.

That was the declaration tod of the seal sale committee leade speaking on behalf of the S Mateo County Tuberculosis a Health Association.

In a prepared statement, Bra for M. Melvin, general chairman the committee said:

Early Fears

"Our earlier fears that we mig experience some difficulty wi the Christmas seal sale that expected to finance the free X-r program, case finding, case assis ance and educational program the association in 1951, appear have been well grounded.

"Initial returns in the seal sa sale are below receipts last ye at this time, although the au mented population of the coun has made the need greater th ever. The remittances during t coming week may prove the tu ing point.

"If they pick up substantial the seal sale committee will ha some indication that delays remitting for the seals se through the mail have been uni tentional and that most folks st intend to do their part in keepi this oldest health activity of t county going forward."

Budget Change

Mr. Melvin said that failure note an upturn in remittances du ing the week will likely cause t association directors to reappra their tentative budget for 19 with a view to eliminating some the added services to patients a school children started during t past two years.

"We will regret this, but we w have no other choice," he co cluded.

Hunting Season Laws Stated

Following the suggestions of committee of sportsmen, gam management area operators, gam bird breeders, and Division of Fis and Game personnel, the Californi Fish and Game Commission ha not set regulations for the 50-da 1951 private game managemen area hunting season.

At its December meeting, th Commission added the followin provisions to the present GMA rulings:

Each licensed area must be runt ed during the first three days o the general open pheasant hunt ing season, and at least 10 per cen of the area's seasonal quota o birds must be taken during th open season;

As a condition to the granting of permits, landowners or lessees must asure the Division of Fish and Game that a reasonable number of hunters will be able to shoot on each area;

Permit holders must do all tha is necessary to prevent the at traction of pheasants and quai from surrounding terrain;

Applications for the annual li cense must be submitted to the Commission before September 15 of the year preceding the season.

Commissioners announced they would take action on a proposal to prohibit the licensing of areas within one quarter of-a-mile from existing areas at their January 26 meeting in San Francisco.

The 70 per cent seasonal kill six-bird daily bag limit, and other regulations in effect during the 1950 season will apply next year.

Motorist Warned That Car Strippers Are Now Active

Automobile owners should make a list of serial numbers, trade names and other identification marks on tires ad car radios to assist recovery and prosecution in case of theft, warns the California State Automobile Association.

Since outbreak of war in Korea, automobile "stripping" has increased, with tires and radios the principal losses and new car models the special targets of this thievery, the CSAA reports.

Police are apprehending these thieves but often are unable to restore tires and radios to owners. The reason is that motorists can't always make proper and unmistakable identification of recovered articles. Known culprits frequently cannot be convicted because of the victims' inadequate evidence of ownership.

To avoid this condition in case tires or radios are stolen, every automobile owner is strongly advised by the CSAA to make an identification list and keep it in a safe place.

Such a list is invaluable not only in retrieving stolen automobile equipment but also in aiding authorities to prosecute the thieves and discourage "stripping."

AUTOMOBILE THERMOSTATS

Thermostats in the engine's cooling system should never be removed except when necessary to replace one that is defective, says the California State Automobile Association. Automobile thermostats keep the operating temperature of the motor high enough to insure efficient operation.

"Whistling Billy" Gave Way To Gasoline ... But It Wasn't Before A Good Fight

With the exception of a very few eccentrics who sometimes try to run their cars on "kerosene and moth balls" or "water and pills," most motorists are usually quite content to run their cars on gasoline.

This has not always been the case, however, and there was a time in the early part of this century when many motorists were trying to run their cars on steam and the owners and operators of "gas buggies" and "Whistling Billies" were hurling insults at each other in a jolly sort of way and indulging in an occasional frantic race.

Steam Engine

At that time, points out the National Automobile Club, a number of automotive engineers were trying to make the steam engine widely popular and they had some very good things to offer. Since the steam engine had tremendous power at low speeds, a car equipped with it had no need for transmission, could accelerate rapidly, and could climb steep hills with a great deal of ease. Such cars could also attain some startling speeds and in 1906 one of them managed to travel a measured mile at 127.66 mile per hour to become the fastest car in the world for that day.

Many Vices

While the steamer did have these considerable virtues it also had some considerable vices. Pilot lights had an awkward way of puffing out at just the wrong time and the open-flamed burners would clog or go out of adjustment and constituted such a serious fire hazard that ferry boat operators and public garage owners sought and got ordinances prohibiting the running of steamers on ferry boats or in public garages. Boilers had a way of corroding, burning out, or even blowing up, and in the colder areas of the country water in reserve tanks or in boilers would freeze solid and put the cars completely out of commission.

All these obstacles proved too much for "Whistling Billy" to surmount and at a fairly early stage in the competition he gave way gracefully to his "gas buggy" brother. Steam driven cars, it turned out, were just one more of those noble experiments that are somehow doomed to failure.

SMJC Plans Now For January Vote

While San Mateo Junior College is having Christmas vacation, the students are going ahead with plans for student body elections that will be held shortly after college takes up work again Jan. 2.

Winthrop Griffith of Burlingame, and Bardo Jacobi and Bob Kennedy, both of San Mateo, are the present candidates for the presidency of the student body.

Among the other candidates competing for various offices are Ruth Roehr of Menlo Park, John Mirande and Mary Kennedy of Redwood City, Ann Poland of San Bruno, and Dean Parnell of Millbrae.

The junior college basketball team won its third straight game by defeating El Camino Junior College from Southern California 47-41 last Saturday in the Matean gym.

The college biology classes recently have made several trips to the coastside and to nearby mountain parks to study marine and wild life. The coastside is a fine place to observe marine life, and recent low tides attracted classes for several colleges.

Most Veterans Must Start Education Courses Before July 25, 1951

Veterans of World War II planning GI Bill education and training were reminded by Veterans Administration today that the July 22, 1951, cut-off date for starting courses is only seven months away.

This coming Spring school term will be the final such term most veterans may enter or re-enter before the deadline, VA said, so if they plan to enroll it's not too early to start making arrangements now.

The 1951 deadline applies to most World War II veterans—those discharged from service before July 25, 1947. Those discharged after that date have four years from their discharge date in which to begin.

Training

Veterans actually must have commenced their training by the cut-off date if they want to continue afterwards, VA said. A veteran must be in training on that date unless he has temporarily interrupted his course for summer vacation or for other reasons beyond his control.

Once he completes or discontinues his course of GI Bill training after the deadline, he may not start another course. Also, he must meet the following two post-deadline requirements:

He will be expected to pursue his training "continuously until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student."

Status of Change

And he may change his educational objective "only while in training and then for reasons satisfactory to the Administrator." Public Law 610, which permits a veteran to make a first change of general fields of study merely by applying for it, will not be in effect after the cut-off date, VA said.

Special consideration will be given to four categories of veteran-trainees who, for reasons beyond their control, either may not be able to resume their training by July 25, 1951, or may not be in a position to remain in continuous training afterwards.

Exceptions

The categories are (1) veterans who have started GI Bill studies and interrupt them to go back into active military or naval service; (2) veterans who completed pre-medical and pre-dental GI Bill schooling and can't get into a medical or dental school by deadline time; (3) teachers who spend their summers taking training leading to a degree, and (4) those who complete GI Bill undergraduate courses and intend to go ahead with graduate training which would start after the deadline date.

Those who had to stop training in order to return to active duty will be permitted to resume their training within a "reasonable period" following their release from service, even though they get out after the deadline date.

They must meet these two requirements: the conduct and progress of their GI Bill course must have been satisfactory, and the period of training obtainable after they get out of uniform will be limited to their remaining GI Bill entitlement.

Give Goodwill This Christmas

With world tensions almost to the breaking point, S J. Phillips president, Boker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial released an unpublished version of good will written by Booker T. Washington at theturn of the century.

The late educator, noted for creating harmony between the races, as well as a pioneer in vocational education among the masses, was a prolific writer, and orator.

His classic philosophy on Good Will follows:

"There is one Christmas gift that any man can give to any other and that is a litle more genuine and a little more kindly interest in his neighbors' troubles, whatever that neighbor may believe them to be. This kind of gift has the advantage that it will be received with just as much gratitude by a rich man from a poor man, by a white man from a black man, as by a poor man from a rich man, or a black man from a white man. Good will was the first Christmas gift and it is still the best."

As a symbol of this type of giving, the Booker T. Washington Memorial half dollars, which are on sale at all branches of the Bank of America, carry the ideals and teachings of this great ambassador of good will into the hearts of all who are fortunate enough to secure them. These San Francisco minted coins are extremely limited. As gifts with a special mission the Boker T. Washington Memorial coins uniquely express "a little more kindly interest" in the welfare of our neighbors.

Christmas Tree Is 150 Years Old In This Country

A CHRISTMAS TREE will be put up in two out of every three American homes this year. Yet the trimmed Christmas tree, as it is known today, is only about 150 years old in this country.

The Pilgrims forbade Christmas celebrations on the grounds they were pagan. A Massachusetts law in 1689 subjected anyone to a fine who observed the day by feasting, refraining from work or in any other manner.

It was not until near the end of the American Revolution that the Christmas tree took hold. German immigrants, homesick for the tradition of their native land, put them up.

The custom of the lighted Christmas tree, some historians tell, originated with Martin Luther. He was fascinated by evergreen trees, glistening with starlit-snow, pointing to the heavens at Christmas time. So he brought an evergreen tree into his house and lighted it with candles for his children.

Another old German legend credits St. Boniface with the origin of the Christmas tree. Having converted some oak tree-worshipping Druids to Christianity, he took them into a forest, cut down an oak and pointed to a stately fir along side. "Take this tree," he said, "into your homes as a sign of your new worship. Celebrate God's power no more with shameful rites, but in the sanctity of your homes with laughter and love."

LAST REQUEST . . . Christ-

With Herod's soldiers in pursuit, Mary simply had to rest awhile and sought shelter within the hollow trunk of a huge fir tree. As the soldiers approached, the tree bent its branches to conceal the huddled little group. When the danger had passed, the baby Jesus blessed the old tree. And if you cut a pine cone lengthwise at Christmastime, you can still see the imprint of His little hand.

Nor has legend overlooked the bright baubles which bedeck our modern Christmas trees. The first Christmas tree was really an apple tree, according to legends collected by Florence B. Robinson. And, although the fir tree long since has supplanted its predecessor for Christmas use, the popular tinsel bauble of today is the representative of the fruit which for the early Christians symbolized the fall of man in the Garden of Eden and his reclamation by the birth of the Saviour.

Mistletoe Has Come Long Way Since Days of Druid Worship

The mistletoe has come a long way from the days when it was worshiped by the British druids to its present status as a criminal killer of forests. However, its use as a symbol of love, peacemaking and goodwill survives to this Christmas intact from the pre-Christian days of the ancient Scandinavian light god, Balder, whose palace stood in the Milky Way.

The beloved Balder, so the myth goes, was slain by a mistletoe arrow but was restored to life at the intercession of the other gods. Custody of the mistletoe plant was then entrusted to the goddess of love who ordained that henceforth anyone passing beneath its bough should receive a kiss in token of love, not vengeance. As long as the mistletoe was held high it could never be used as a power for evil.

Christmas Mass

Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve is the event of the year in Rome.

Every Roman Catholic church in the Holy City is crowded with men, women and children anxious to see the processions of church officials in their splendid robes. The larger the church, the more beautiful the sight. And, of course, the service at St. Peter's is the most magnificent in the world.

At St. Peter's all the men present are required to wear evening clothes and the ladies must be dressed in black, thus offsetting the brilliant beauty of the robes. Even the guards on duty are attired in elegant red and white uniforms.

King Richard's Christmas Feasts

Once upon a medieval Yuletide, King Richard III of England celebrated at Litchfield—and during the festivities 2,000 oxen and 200 tons of wine were consumed.

Of course, the feudal set-up provided the great lords with the wherewithal for magnificence—the lords received gifts from their tenants and kings received gifts from their nobles; and the graduated scale for giving and receiving was as well ascertained as the quiddam honorarium of any barrister or physician.

Queen Elizabeth received a large part of her wardrobe as gifts from her courtiers, and if the quality or quantity was not satisfactory, the donors were unceremoniously informed of the situation.

When Henry III entertained a thousand knights, peers, and assorted nobles who came to attend the Yuletide marriage of the Princess Margaret, his majesty received a royal Christmas gift of 2,700 pounds, plus 600 fat oxen from the Archbishop of York.

With similar assistance, whether exhorted or given in the spirit of generosity appropriate to the season, his majesty could well afford to give Christmas feasts for the poor like the one given in Westminster Hall in 1248, which lasted a week.

Striving to outdo his predecessors and give his successors something to shoot at, Henry VIII kept one Yuletide at which the cost of gold cloth that was used amount to 600 pounds alone. He had tents erected and artificial gardens plotted within the spacious hall of his palace. Knights came out of the tents to joust in tournaments and fantastically dressed dancers, covered from head to foot with gay ribbon streamers, emerged from the gardens to entertain the guests.

Preparation for the feasting on such occasions is pertectly appalling to epicures of the 20th century—and can only be vaguely comprehended by considering that Richard II normally employed 2,000 cooks to prepare food for the 10,000 persons who dined—irrespective of special feasting – at his expense every day

Santa Claus Hit As 'Sugar Daddy' Instead of Saint

Assailing the Santa Claus myth as 'foolish fiction' and rival of the Holy Child, the Rev. John S. Martin, editor of the Catholic Review, declared in a 1949 editorial that Santa the saint has been lost in Santa the sugar daddy—and that the whole idea is bad psychology and bad pedagogy.

"Our children learn about the reindeer, but have never heard of the ox and the ass," Father Martin continued and recommended that we:

"Leave the man in the red suit to those who have nothing better . . . for whom life must end in disillusion and despair."

Father Martin's sentiments are reminiscent of Martin Luther's vigorous campaign against neglect of the central idea of Christmas, which is the birth of Jesus. So, German children have been taught that the Christkind brings the presents—Christkind being depicted as the messenger of the Infant Jesus sent earthward at Christmastime to bring happiness to good children.

The modern conception of Santa Claus is, of course, 99 per cent fictional and strictly American. But the spirit of generosity and thoughtfulness as typified by Santa Claus is neither sugar daddy-ish nor essentially American. Unfortunately not all chldren who await Santa have learned from their mothers' lips the story of the Holy Child.

A-Bomb Shelter Planned For SF

Plans for San Francisco's first scientifically designed a-bomb shelter have been announced by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The shelter will be incorporated in the company's $2,500,000 expansion of its headquarters here. The Metropolitan's office building is located on Stockton street between Pine and California streets. A present wing of the structure runs down Pine street toward Grant avenue and the new addition will be a seven-story matching wing running down California street, forming an interior court between the two.

The bomb shelter will be the lowest of the levels, extending beneath the new wing and the courtyard. It will be used as a garage to accommodate 150 automobiles of Metropolitan executives and employees but will be fitted with a closed ventilation system and other facilities required for an effective bomb shelter, company officials said.

Help A Child... Buy Xmas Seals

No appreciable increase in the returns of the 1950 Tuberculosis Christmas seal sale was noted during the crucial period for the drive in the last two weeks before Christmas.

Announcement that the seal sale is still lagging and that the response of householders who were mailed the seals has been less than one in four, came from the official seal sale committee today.

We have our fingers crossed and we are still hoping, said Mrs. Ruth Close, executive secretary of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association which depends upon the Christmas seal sale for financing of its free x-ray and other programs throughout the year.

"Last year at this time," Mrs. Close said, "we were also discouraged, but we found that the last few days before Christmas brought an upturn in receipts as many people, beginning to use seals for the decoration of personal gift packages, realized that they had not yet sent in their checks.

"We are certainly hoping that history will repeat itself."

One sign of hope, she declared, was an appreciable increase in returns from some of the newer residents of the county. Previously, response from the newer residents had ben almost nil, according to the volunteer workers of the seal sale.

CHRISTMAS REFRESHMENT

OPEN house at the Christmas holiday period is a time-honored tradition and one of our most pleasant customs. Providing refreshments for friends dropping in is a quick and easy matter if you are prepared with a well-stocked larder. Cake, cookies, fruit, salted nuts and candies are all suitable for passing with a good beverage.

Sometimes a beverage alone is enough to serve the casual caller. Be sure, though, that it is an especially good beverage. If your pantry shelves are stocked with bottled fruit juices, syrups and fruit flavorings and you have plenty of fresh citrus fruits, you will always be able to make a single drink or punch for a crowd in a jiffy. Be sure you have a supply of pale dry ginger ale and sparkling water and keep a bottle or two in your refrigerator so it will be chilled for use at any time. Used as mixers, ginger ale and sparkling water add zest to your fruit beverages.

Cranberry juice and ginger ale, half and half is an excellent holiday drink. You might like to serve this spicy apple drink.

Spiced Apple Nogg

1 egg white
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup apple juice
Dash of nutmeg
Sparkling Water

Beat egg white until it forms soft peaks. Beat in sugar. Combine apple juice, ginger and cinnamon and fold into egg. Pour into 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold sparkling water. Mix gently. Sprinkle nutmeg on top. Serves 4.

Montmarte

1 jigger Chablis
¼ cup rasberry juice
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine Chablis and rasberry juice in a tall glass. Fill glass with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Bon Bon Tarts For Christmas

Christmas cheer in a tart shell is what you'll call this elegant egg nog chiffon in chocolate candy cups. The creamy richness of egg nog and the fluffiness of unflavored gelatine make a filling to delight Santa himself, with a chocolate shell added for real luxury.

The egg nog filling has the delicate texture which you can always count on in gel-cookery.

Egg Nog Filling

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs separated
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ cups scalded milk
2 teaspoons rum flavoring
½ teaspoon vanilla

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks slightly in top of double boiler: add ¼ cup of the sugar and salt. Gradually stir in scalded milk. Cook, stirring constantly, over very hot water until mixture coats a metal spoon. Add softened gelatine, rum flavoring and vanilla, and stir until dissolved. Chill until the mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of an unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold into custard. Spoon into chocolate tart shells. Decorate in Christmas motif.

Bon Bon Tarts

1 package semi-sweet chocolate
2 tablespoons shortening

Place semi-sweet chocolate morsels and shortening in a pint measuring cup; place in water in a saucepan, or in the top of double boiler. Melt over hot, not boiling water, to prevent steam from condensing inside cup and prevent chocolate from thickening. Stir occasionally until melted. Place 8 2-inch paper baking cups in muffin pan. Divide equal amounts of chocolate among baking cups. Swirl completely around sides and bottom of cups with back of a teaspoon. Store in refrigerator for several hours or in the freezing compartment for 30 minutes. To remove paper, pull around sides from left to right, and then from bottom. YIELD: 8 Bon Bon Tarts.

Santa's Requests

Santa Claus still gets letters from youngsters with the same cherished requests—bicycles and dolls. But last year a child wanted a live cow. He told a department store Santa so....

Another kid wanted a new daddy because hers was "wearing out on top."

"ALL HE WANTS" . . . Young Edward Hospisa of New York makes known to Santa his Christmas wish. He said, to coin a phrase, "All I want for Christmas is my two front incisors." Whether he'll get them is another story.

Soap Flake Snow

Trimming the Christmas tree with fluffy snow is easy if you use soap flakes. It won't melt either.

Here's how it's done: Use three or four cups of soap flakes to one cup of warm water. Beat with electric beater or hand beater until smooth and fluffy. Then spread immediately over branches of tree, scattering it on with hands.

For sparkle, spread on some artificial glistening snow.

Currier and Ives Cards

Commercial production of Christmas cards in the United States began about 1835 with the founding and developing of the partnership of Currier and Ives in New York.

For more than a century American painters have aided the industry by painting Christmas themes on order or by selling reproduction rights to the art which is now conservatively estimated as worth $10,000,000 annually.

The favorite Nativity theme is represented by hundreds of interpretations. Winter scenes are next in popularity, some of them dating back to the Puritans of New England, the German forests whence St. Nicholas emerged, and even to the Druids of pre-Christian England.

Dickens' Christmas Now Celebrated As American

Charles Dickens, beloved author of A Christmas Carol, has been credited by many Americans as the "inventor" of Christmas, with all its trimmings.

According to Dr. Ada B. Nisbet, in English on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California and recent Guggeheim Fellow for the study of Charles Dickens, the arrival of Dickens in America in 1867 was almost as if St. Nicholas himself had decided to make a personal appearance tour.

"If Senator Taft can be called 'Mr. Republican,' Dickens was 'Mr. Christmas' to the mid-19th century English-speaking world," said Dr. Nisbet.

A Christmas Carol, with it turkey and plum puddings, roaring fires, brandy punches and general good cheer, did much to break down the long-standing Puritan opposition to the celebration of Christmas.

Dickens visited America twice during his lifetime, pointed out Dr. Nisbet. Following his first visit in 1842 he published two works which criticized Americans. These aroused much resentment in the New World, but at the time of his second visit at the Christmas season, 1867, the indignation had subsided, and long lines awaited his theatrical readings.

"On the whole, the combination of Christmas, Tiny Tim and Dickens was a delicious mixture that the great mas of the American public could not resist, and they paid little attention to the disgruntled minority," Dr. Nisbet declared.

"On the famous Christmas Eve of 1867, they listened enraptured to the story of Scrooge, read to them by Dickens himself, and when Tiny Tim said, "God bless us, every one,' the Americans dried their eyes and forgave the author of A Christmas Carol all the injuries, real or imagined, he may have done them a long, long 25 years earlier."

Charles Dickens' 'Life of Our Lord' Is a Moving Story

LAST YEAR, the heretofore unpublished Dickens' manuscript "The Life of Our Lord" was presented to the world.

Written 100 years earlier for the exclusive audience of the author's own children, it is a child's life of Christ—a simple, moving narrative, understandable even to a child and yet touched by that incomparable Dickens genius which insures its place by the side of the famous 'Christmas Carol' among the great masterpieces of Christmas literature.

Because he felt such deep veneration for the life and lessons of our Saviour, he left instructions that this particular manuscript should not be commercialized. Thus, the manuscript was a precious family secret for 85 years. But when Sir Henry Fielding Dickens, the author's youngest child, died in 1933, it was finally brought forth and sold for the staggering amount of $210,000 — or, $15 per word.

Purchased by the London Daily Mail, the manuscript became a literary event of the first magnitude, destined to be read and cherished forever wherever thoughtful parents, like Dickens himself, want their children to know something about the history of Jesus Christ. For, according to Dickens:

"Everybody ought to know about Him. No one ever lived who was so good, so kind, so gentle, and so sorry for people who did wrong, or were in any way ill or miserable, as He was.

"And as He is now in heaven, where we all hope to go, and all meet each other after we are dead, and there be happy always together, you can never think what a good place heaven is, without knowing who He was and what He did."

Tradition of Poppy

The poppy loaf, traditionally a part of Christmas Eve supper in Lithuania, is a small loaf made of bread dough and baked hard in a bread pan. When cool, the loaves are dipped in a solution made of water and sugar and ground poppy seed which is also used as a traditional holiday beverage.

Tradition prescribes that the poppy seed should be ground in an iron kettle using an ax handle as a mallet, and no Lithuanian would think of grinding seeds for the Christmas poppy loaves by any other method.

It Takes Know-How To Burn a Yule Log

THE YULE LOG is a tradition of Christmas, but due to central heating and gas stoves it is becoming a lost tradition in this country. Few city dwellers have open grates or desire a log fire. And those living in the country find coal more efficient and less trouble.

However, for those who have a place to burn the yule log and want one, tradition says it should be oak, ash, olive, apple or pine.

Further, the fire on which it is placed should be kindled from a brand saved from last year's log, and that it should not be allowed to go out during the night.

For those determined to have the yule log, the voice of experience says get hold of all the wood you can. Some kinds burn better than others, but reject none these days.

Ash is highly praised by some and can be used without being seasoned. It burns quickly, but throws off great heat. Poplar, on the other hand, should be seasoned or it will spark badly.

Elm is condemned as undesirable, but can be used. It is slow to get burning, but lasts a long time and brightens up when it gets going. A few logs of birch, pine or fir will help it along.

Beech and oak are among the best logs. Beech is especially good, having a pleasant aroma and a steady glow. Oak has the outstanding merit of burning slowly.

If none of these are available, wood from all kinds of fruit trees are prime favorites for the yule log because of their pleasant smell when burning.

America Has Provided World With Poinsettia

WHILE IT SEEMS rather odd, it certainly is interesting that America has given the world its most beloved Christmas plant—the poinsettia. This plant, like so many others of our best flowers, is native to tropical America. The florist has been able to propagate it and grow it in a small pot, so that, with its flaming red bracts or leaves, it makes a most desirable Christmas plant.

There is a sentiment that goes with most Christmas plants — we hate to throw them away. What can be done with the poinsettia? Most of us figure that it is easier and cheaper to throw it away. However, if properly handled, it will bloom for you a second or even a third or fourth year. You can even propagate it, if you wish, and have more plants.

Give the plant a resting period around the middle of February The florist simply lays it under the benches, but you will probably put it in your basement. Water it occasionally — enough to keep the wood from wilting, but no more. Then, around the latter part of May or early in June, bring it out, cut it back rather severely, and repot it. You can then put it outside if you wish in the shade of a tree or shrub, and water it enough to keep it growing. Of course, if you have a nice, warm, sandy spot, you might plant it right in the ground, but most of us prefer to leave it in the pot.

ACCORDING to the familiar old carol, St. Joseph was an old man. He probably was considerably older than Mary, but people may have thought of him as being older than he actually was because he enjoyed earnest conversation and the companionship of selected friends rather than boisterous pleasures.

When Joseph thought of Mary, he forgot the difference in their ages; she was the girl he had waited for, his beloved. They were espoused—or, as we would say, engaged—which was almost as official as being married. His heart soared on wings of the approaching wedding day, and then . . .

What Mary insisted had come to pass, simply could not be! Joseph wanted desperately to believe Mary, but such things just didn't happen, and if they did, they happened to somebody else.

Much as he loved Mary, Joseph was a righteous and God-fearing man and while he couldn't even think of making her a public example, he had just about made up his mind to put her away privily. That is, he thought he had made up his mind. In his heart, he knew he couldn't; what would become of her . . . of her child. . . .

Then one night, after he had exhausted himself with tortured thinking, he fell asleep and the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream: saying,

"Joseph, thou son of David, fear not . . ."

And when Joseph awoke, he did as the angel had bidden him, and took Mary as his lawful and cherished wife.

"Fear not," the angel spoke unto Joseph.

"Fear not," the angel had declared unto Mary.

"Fear not," the angel said unto the shepherds of Bethlehem.

There Are Now 127,000 TV Set Owners In SF

San Francisco Bay Area television set ownership hit 127,069 as of December 1, according to the San Francisco Television Stations Committee. With some sales reports still due, television dealers reported November sales of 12,383 sets.

Heavy Christmas buying is expected to continue the high consumer deman dfor TV sets during December.

The San Francisco Television Stations Committee bases its reports on figures submitted by the Northern California Electrical Bureau.

Danger of Fire Is Greatly Enhanced By Christmas Tree

THE AVERAGE CHRISTMAS tree can go up in smoke in only two minutes. That doesn't leave much time for the fire department to get there.

A live tree with roots packed in a bucket of earth is the safest. Be sure and keep the dirt moistened. A small tree is safer than a large one and festive trimmings can make up what it lacks in size.

Keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to set it up inside. When you bring it in, keep it in the coolest part of the house with the radiator nearest it turned off.

Use noninflammable aluminum foil—not cotton or paper—to conceal container in which tree is "planted." Use noninflammable trimmings on the tree.

Don't use lighted candles. (This may seem an unnecessary precaution in this day of electric lights, but lighted candles contribute to tragic fires every year.)

Check the wiring for the tree to see that it's not frayed and is in perfect condition. The switch for turning off and on electric lights should be at some distance from the tree. Don't plug or unplug lights beneath the tree.

Don't leave tree lights on when it isn't necessary and especially when the family is away from home. From time to time, check over the tree and see if needles near the lights are turning brown. If they have, move the lights.

Watch the calendar. New Year's is the day for the tree to go down. If you should extend the time, don't leave the lights on the tree for more than a half hour at a time.

'Grandpa Frost' Helps Russians Celebrate Midwinter Festival

Although Christmas is no longer a holiday in Soviet Russia, a nonreligious midwinter festival is celebrated and children receive gifts from "Grandpa Frost."

In Czarist Russia, it was customary for well-to-do families with large homes to entertain lavishly on Christmas day. The invitations were extremely formal and begged the invited to consider that.

". . . for thousands of years it has been so; with us it has not commenced, with us it will not cease. Do not, therefore, disturb the festival; do not bring the good people to despair. Without you there will be no maiden festival at Anna Karpowna's."

In planning these houseparties, hostesses gave particular attention to the selection of partners for the young ladies. The selection was sometimes very satisfactory and sometimes left something to be desired.

Arrival of the "fair maidens," each with her mother and retinue, bringing cake and sweetmeats and gifts for everyone, proceeded according to prescribed ritual: the guests sooner freezing in their sleds before the gate than to alight before receiving the greeting of the host and hostess.

Having been ceremoniously welcomed, the guests offered prayers before the icon (sacred picture) and then proceeded to the feasting and festivities arranged for them.

Jobs Open Now With US Gov'ment

Nationwide civil service examinations for Occupational Therapist, Physical Therapist, and Institution Food Administrator will be held in January to fill positions primarily with the Departments of Mental Hygiene, Public Health, and Corrections, according to an announcement by Robert O. Fort, Chief of the Recruitment Section, State Personnel Board, today.

He says that the demand for well trained personnel to fill the therapy positions reflects the increasing need for adequate care and early treatment of the mentally ill and physically handicapped. In service training of personnel continues and becomes an integral part of each position as professional development is the aim and result of the program.

Candidates for Occupational Therapy positions must be registered with the National Registry of Qualified Occupational Therapists and graduated from a school of occupational therapy, and physical therapy candidates must have graduated from a school of physical therapy. The salary ranges of these positions are: Occupational Therapist, Grade 1, $243-295; Occupational Therapist, Grade 2, $295-358; Physical Therapy Technician, Grade 1, $243-295; Physical Therapy Technician, Grade 2, $295-358.

Driver License Time Extended

Under authority granted by the California Vehicle Code, Motor Vehicle Director A. H. Henderson today extended for 30 days all operators' licenses expiring during January, 1951.

The extension runs from the expiration date shown on the license. Applicants who must obtain operators' license renewals during January because of out-of-state trips or other reasons, will be accommodated.

Henderson explained his action was designed to reduce congestion at Department of Motor Vehicles offices during the annual registration renewal period opening January 2 and continuing through February 5, 1951.

It also permits utilization of the services of drivers' license examiners in registration renewal work.

The 1951 renewal will be the largest ever conducted by Henderson's department. New license plates will be issued for nearly five million vehicles.

Spaghetti Dinner, Easy and Good Tastes Like a Real Chef's Treat

DON'T let your family down at mealtime just because you're snowed under with plans for Christmas. Santa Claus may need your help, but the family should have good meals just the same.

You can save time for holiday activities and serve meals that make everybody happy at the same time if you remember a few quick-and-easy menus.

Serve one good, substantial hot dish. This kind of menu might include hot soup, followed by salad and dessert. Or it could be a dish of spaghetti with a hot, savory sauce, a tossed salad, fruit for dessert. Cold cuts and potato salad, with rolls, jelly and pickles, topped off with a hot rice or cottage pudding, are another tempting choice.

Easiest of all—and a sure taste-tempter — is the spaghetti. There's a packaged dinner that's specially convenient. The spaghetti comes ready to cook, the savory sauce is ready to heat; and there's Parmesan-style grated cheese for added flavor. Spaghetti sauce, made with either meat or with mushrooms, can be bought separately in cans, ready-to-heat and mix with cooked spaghetti, rice, macaroni. It has all the taste-tempting flavor of a great chef's masterpiece.

With the hot spaghetti mainstay, serve breadsticks, if you like them, or crusty Italian bread. Sliced white bread browned very slowly in the oven goes well with this Italian-style menu, too. A tossed green salad with a bit of garlic flavor, and fresh fruit for dessert, round out a delicious, satisfying, and easy meal

TOYS NEEDED

This year, as in the past, the Daly City Lions Club is collecting toys for needy children in Daly City. They propose to make it a truly Merry Christmas for 20 families here.

Anyone wishing to give toys, canned goods, or children's clothing is asked to leave the items at either the Daly City Cleaners, Daly City Theatre, or Neville Motors in Colma. A call to PLaza 5-5261 will bring a truck to your home to pick up any donations.

MERRY CHRISTMAS
HAPPY NEW YEAR

IN 1937, a Waukegan, Ill., minister and the residents of one city block decided to do something about the disposal of the family Christmas tree. Nothing is more forlorn than worn out Christmas trees. They deserve better fates than being dumped in alleys and vacant lots; and they constitute fire hazards on back porches and in basement areaways.

So, Waukegan held its first annual Twelfth Night observances, committing the trees to a community bonfire amid the chorusing of carols.

And the custom has waxed. Residents of several communities, choruses, soloists, etc., participating as the spirits of the Christmas trees are dispatches to some fir Valhalla to return to bless a future Yuletide.

Legends Associate Mule, Gentle Camel of Jesus With Gift-Giving Custom

Syrian legends have associated the Magic Mule and the Gentle Camel of Jesus with gift-giving, for reasons that are at once different, and yet similar in their association with the Christ Child.

It seems a certain traveler tied his mule to a tree when he went into an inn for refreshment on Epiphany Eve. Just at midnight, when the boughs of the tree bowed down in homage to the Holy Infant, the mule was caught up on the branches by its reining master.

The youngest camel of the three ridden by the Wise Men was exhausted by the pressing journey and was blessed with immortality by the baby Jesus as it lay moaning near the Nativity scene.

DRIVE SOBERLY

With the holiday season near, motorists are reminded by the California State Automobile Association that any driver who operates a motor vehile under the influence of intoxicating liquor is guilty of a misdeameanor. The offense becomes a felony if an intoxicated driver inflicts bodily injury upon another person.

Divorce Death From Xmas; Drive With Caution

Christmas and tragedy are too often related because many motorists and pedestrians fail to take extra caution and care during the holiday season, Commissioner Clifford E. Peterson of the California Highway Patrol, stated today.

"Last year in California," he continued, "152 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during the Christmas-New Year holiday season. There is every reason to believe that toll will be repeated —even exceeded—unless each driver and pedestrian assumes personal responsibility for his own safety."

Odds High

The odds are definitely stacked against the driver and pedestrian during the holiday season," Commissioner Peterson pointed out, but he added the odds can be reduced by the practice of common sense, moderation and alertness. He cited three main causes for upsurge in traffic deaths and accidents during the holiday period. They are:

1. Excessive drinking.
2. Preoccupation.
3. Adverse weather conditions.

Commissioner Peterson stated they were not necessarily listed in the order of their importance.

Drink Slowly

"Too many persons—and I mean both drivers and pedestrians—who normally would never think of drinking to excess, are inclined to over-indulge during the holiday season. It is a deadly practice. Drink if you must, but don't drive or walk in traffic afterward."

He explained that by preoccupation as a major cause of traffic accidents he mean that many persons had their minds on everything but the traffic problems at hand.

"They walk or drive without really being conscious of their actions," he said. "They are thinking about last-minute Christmas shopping, the office party or New Year's eve reservations at some night spot. Before they realize their danger they are dead or in trouble."

Weather

"Too many drivers operate their cars under conditions of rain, sleet, ice or snow much in the same way they drove in July," he pointed out. "They can't do that, of course, but they go on thinking they can.

December has always been the most dangerous month in the year for traffic accidents," Peterson delared, citing these figures:

Traffic deaths average seven a day during the first eleven months of the year; in December the rate jumps to eleven deaths a day.

Injuries Up

Injuries average 232 daily for the first 11 months; 281 daily in December.

Pedestrians struck by cars average 32 a day during the 11-month period; 40 a day in December.

"If you want to be killed or injured in traffic during the Christmas holiday season, much easier than any other time of the year," the Commissioner said.

"But of course you don't," he added. "Then be extra careful and alert."

Science In Action Show To Continue

A second series of "Science in Action" television programs were announced this week by the California Academy of Sciences, the producers, and the American Trust Company, sponsors.

The new group of programs, continuing on the air at the same time, Thursday evening from 7:00 to 7:30, over KGO-TV, will commence December 21 and continue to March 15.

Public response to the series has been so hearty, according to American Trust Company officials, that they are happy to keep the show on the air under their sponsorship.

Topics for the new series, announced by Dr. Robert C. Miller, Academy Director, range from chemistry to conservation and from the origin of the alphabet to how television works. "Subjects were chosen for the most part by viewers themselves in letters to the Academy," Dr. Miller said.

Car Brakes Are Maintenance Topic Of DC Auto Clinic

Safety and preventive maintenance of brakes was emphasized at the Puritan Hydraulic Brake Clinic held at 101 Club, Wednesday night under the auspices of the Daly City Auto Parts in Oaly City. Similar Clinics will be held in San Francisco, Redwood City, and other California Cities.

Approximately 150 garage men, engaged in the automotive repair business, attended the Clinic. 125 of them were actual practicing mechanics, all of whom will receive certificates for attendance at the Clinic through the Daly City Auto Parts, on behalf of the Puritan Company, Inc., Rochester, N.Y.

It was pointed out at the Clinic that too often brakes are not maintained or repaired until failure has resulted. In most other areas in vehicles, repairs might be delayed until failure is in evidence, but too often when this practice is followed in brake service it results in the loss of car—or perhaps even the customer, the meeting was told.

Bernard Bannon, Jr., Puritan Company technical representative in charge of the Clinic, suggested that motorists might have much les brake trouble if they would have the fluid part of the brake system periodically flushed clean and refilled with fresh brake fluid.

He also pointed to a need for cleaning up hydraulic systems for correct and safe operation of the brakes. Bannon declared: "It remains now to impress these thoughts on the car owner."

Arnold Pommerening, also of the Puritan Company, assisted Bannon in handling the chemical aspects of brake fluids and automotive sealing compounds during the Clinic.

Joe Long, owner of Daly City Auto Parts, 7338 Mission St., described the Clinic as a "success" and in the future he will make every effort to bring further Clinics based on pertinent phases of the automotive repair business to his customers.

A Christmas Prayer

He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment.

In his days shall the righteous flourish; and abundance of peace so long as the moon endureth.

The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy.

His name shall endure for ever: his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him: all nations shall call him blessed.

And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory: Amen, and Amen.

Nativity Theme Dominates Cards

Modern Christmas cards feature literally hundreds of interpretations of the popular Nativity theme. Many of these are reproductions from the old masters, while many others have been created especially for the Christmas card industry.

The Nativity theme, which naturally lends itself to an almost endless variety of interpretations and a wealth of detail, long has been a favorite subject of Christian artists. Many of the details, based upon certain Bible texts, have fostered various legends—such as those concerning the Magi—which grew until the Wise Men were identified and given kingdoms.

The Annunciation is among the earliest subjects represented in Christian art, antedating the Madonna and Child theme by several centuries, and it is interesting to note that the fathers of the Church determined how the Madonna should be portrayed: her dress and mantle are usually blue and red.

Letters to 'Santa Claus' Come From World Over

Postoffice officials in Santa Claus, Ind., are accustomed to overloaded sacks of mail during the pre-Christmas rush. Senders want their cards and gifts stamped with the famous Santa Claus postmark, plus thousands of wistful letters addressed in childish scrawl to "Santa Claus, Santa Claus, Ind."

And then there is the annual crop of "Santa Claus" letters written by youngsters in far-away places who haven't heard about Santa's permanent address in Indiana, U. S. A. At least a dozen versions of the time honored note-in-the-bottle story find their way into metropolitan newspapers every year.

The notes, sealed in small bottles and securely tied to Christmas trees, are discovered by Christmas tree dealers, housewives; and even enlisted men at naval centers and military barracks; they come from places like Renous, a village in New Brunswick, Canada, boasting a total population of 85 inhabitants.

The notes range from the wistful to the desperate, requesting such things as a mamma doll, a sled, a sweater, or a pair of overshoes.

Flower Legends Express Christmas Beauty

There are many legends concerning Christmas, but some of the most beautiful have to do with flowers.

The Christmas rose, for instance, was divinely created. A shepherd maid wept at having no gift to lay before the Babe in the Manger. Suddenly an angel appeared before her—

The Angel spoke, his voice was low and sweet
As the sea's murmur on low-lying shore,
Or whisper of the wind in ripened wheat.

Then, after hearing why the maiden wept, he touched the ground where her tears had fallen, with the branch of lilies which he carried, and immediately the place was white with Christmas roses, which the maid gathered and laid on the manger.

Of the others, Sainfoin, or Holy Hay, is believed to have cradled the infant Christ in the manger.

And the snowdrop is the flower of the Virgin Mary, and is said to be the emblem of the candles she lighted on Christmas Eve.

Merry Christmas

To you, a full measure of peace and plenty.

When Father Carved the... BOAR'S HEAD

WHAT ROAST TURKEY is to Christmas dinner today, the boar's head was to the Yuletide feasting of Medieval England.

Preparation for the feasting began during September or October when the boar's flesh was at its best. Hunters tracked the animal down with well-trained packs of boar-hounds and it was dangerous sport, attacking the ferocious beast with spears or surrounding him and driving him into a net.

His ear was his most vulnerable spot, but before the dogs could get a grip on it and pin him down, his sharp teeth often wounded—sometimes even killed—the hunter and his dogs.

Nevertheless, the pluckier the boar, the louder his praises were sung, the merrier the feasting, when his head was borne to the Christmas table.

World's Christmas Legends Numerous

Multitudinous legends claim innumerable origins for the Christmas tree. One better known legend concerns an early Christian missionary, sometimes identified as St. Wilfred, who once came upon a group of Druids preparing to make a human sacrifice under a large oak.

He had the oak cut down and, as it fell, a young fir tree sprang up in its place. The missionary seized the evidence and made the fir tree a symbol of the new faith: henceforth, the tribesmen were to set this symbol of immortality in the halls of their lodges at Christmastime and surround it with feasting and love and the laughter of children.

The legend of the Faithful Pine which sheltered the Holy Family during the flight to Egypt is less well known perhaps, but so very charming and touched by the mysticism appropriate to the Nativity theme.

U.S. Place Names Express Christmas Idea Many Ways

SANTA CLAUS, INDIANA; Bethlehem, Conn.; and Christmas, Fla., are a few of the more familiar post offices which each year handle a flood of mail from senders wishing to obtain yuletide postmarks.

Although the federal post office department has now barred extra flourishes by local postmasters using Christmas symbols and mottoes, a town's own holiday name can still give that festive touch to a greeting or package of toys.

Indiana's Santa Claus is the only town so designated in the United States. The privilege is reserved to its post office by congressional act. There is, however, Santa, Idaho. There is also only one Christmas—the one in Florida—plus a Christmas Cove, Maine.

On the other hand, seven Bethlehems answer the seasonal roll call: they can be found in Connecticut, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, New Hampshire, and Pennsylvania. The Bethlehem, Conn. post office was one of several stations that figured in headlines recently on the use of especially-designed cancellation stamps bearing the now-forbidden Christmas tree decoration. The town's population is about 350.

There are two Noels—in Virginia and Missouri. Last year, Missouri's Noel post office reported hand-cancellation of a record 650,000 pieces of Christmas mail—800 for each of the town's residents.

Besides specific Christmas names that dot the land there are dozens that call up Biblical or holiday associations. There is Advent, W. Va., for the Nativity. Kentucky has a Mary, and Oregon and Utah a Joseph each.

One Wiseman is found in Alaska and another in Arkansas. The third, it may be assumed, is in Wisemantown, Ky. There are five Stars and four Shepherds. West Virginia contributes Goodwill; Missouri, Peace Valley; and there is Joy in Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, and Texas.

For the Christmas party, Turkey is available in four states; Cranberry in three. Kentucky has a Mistletoe. Six states count an Evergreen; seven a Pine, and three a Holly.

Louisiana comes up with Trees, Alabama with Candle; and to top the decorations, Pennsylvania has its Angels.

Kris Kringle Isn't Really Santa Claus

Popular notion seems to imply that Kris Kringle is a German term of endearment for Santa Claus. Just what motivates this idea is not at all clear, since Kris Kringle is really a modification of Christkind who, although endowed by German legend as a gift-giver, resembles Santa Claus not in the least.

Santa Claus, as we know him in America, never really caught on in Germany. St. Nicholas comes around on his liturgical feast day—December 6 — with his pockets bulging with candy and nuts and trinkets. Well and good, but German parents maintain, as did their predecessors of the Reformation era, that the central idea of Christmas, the birth of Jesus, should dominate the observances.

Nor is Christkind depicted as the Infant Jesus himself, but rather as his messenger and gift-bearer who comes to earth at Christmastime to bring happiness to good children. The Christkind is usually represented as a child dressed in white robes, wearing a golden crown and having big, golden wings.

DOLLIES ALL . . . Barbara Johnson (left) and Patricia Abel, both orphans, are in a virtual paradise, seated amid so many playmates. The dolls, more than 800 of them, were dressed by volunteer workers for distribution to charitable organizations as Christmas gifts.

With most sincere wishes that you may enjoy a truly Merry Christmas.

Daly City Has Day At SM Blood Bank

Last Friday, December 15, Daly City Day at the San Mateo County Blood Bank realized a successful quota of volunteers, according to Mrs. Ethel Harris of Daly City, in charge of the day's recruitments.

Aware of the vital need of blood contribution various committees which make up the San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross work to meet their goal on days set aside for them at the Blood Bank, 25 El Camino Real, San Mateo.

With a plea to the public to give and continue to give, the San Mateo County Red Cross is now carrying out the campaign of meeting the county goal of 75 pints a day and 60 pints per month, and asks all healthy individuals between the ages of 18 and 60 to make an appointment for blood contribution by calling DIamond 3-4561.

Those who gave a pint of blood last week include Mesdames Lynn Boskey, Florence Hopman, Catherine McKeown, Roma Goggin, Vera Mohrweiss, A. Aroyos, E. K. Whinnen, Mary Wakefield, M. J. Cook, Ilda Blackburn and Mr. and Mrs. Lemon.

FIRE LOSSES RISE DURING WINTER MONTHS

Winter is fire's favorite season, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns.

Fire losses usually rise when the temperature falls, the organization points out, in urging home owners to take special care with their heating systems in preparation for the cold months ahead.

Where possible, thorough inspection and cleaning of the entire heating system is advisable during the early Fall, before it is placed in full daily operation. Frequently defects which developed during the Spring and Summer can be remedied easily, but if neglected might lead to a serious blaze.

"Forcing" a furnace or heater which is giving insufficent heat is a dangerous habit, the engineers of the National Board observe. Often a check-up by a competent repairman will reveal that some repair is needed to make the device give better service, and attempts to "force" it may cause a fire.

The engineers also offered these four safety tips:

1. Keep a metal screen in front of your fireplace.
2. Never use gasoline or kerosene to "quicken" a fire.
3. Remove newspapers, magazines, and other combustible rubbish from your home. Often these are responsible for a blaze.
4. Use a metal container with a cover for hot ashes . . . never a wooden or cardboard container.

Fruit Cake Made With Sweetened Condensed Milk Star Of Holiday

WHAT would the Yuletide festivities be without the traditional fruit cake. It became a favorite way back when dried fruit was the only fruit available to cooks in the wintertime. And, of course, in those days it was a long, laborious chore to make one of these cakes. But today with holiday cakes, candies and cookies made magically easy and quick, you need no longer be a complete physical wreck by the time your Christmas cooking is done.

For example, this cake made with sweetened condensed milk and baked in the shape of a star is bound to shine on your Christmas table. Magically enough it turns out to be a rich, delicious treat without benefit of the quantities of sugar, butter or cream used in Grandmother's day. It's the sweetened condensed milk that does it. This is a thick creamy combination of whole milk blended with pure cane sugar. You simply combine it with walnut meats, coconut, and candied fruits or dates and turn the mixture into a greased pan lined with wax paper. Bake it about 30 minutes and you will have a delectable holiday cake that rivals anything Grandmother use to make.

Magic Holiday Cake

1 cup coarsely chopped walnut meats
1/2 lb. (3 cups) shredded coconut
1 lb. (2 cups) coarsely chopped pitted dates*
1-1/3 cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk

Combine walnut meats, coconut and dates. Stir in sweetened condensed milk, mix thoroughly. Turn into 8"x4"x3" loaf pan which has been greased, lined with wax paper, and greased again. Bake in moderately hot oven (375°F.) until lightly browned, about 30 minutes. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Cut with a sharp knife, dipped in hot water and dried between cuttings.

*May use any desired candied fruits.

TRANSMISSION TROUBLE

When an automobile has a tendency to "jump out of gear," the trouble can often be traced to faulty, worn or misaligned parts in the transmission mechanism, according to the California State Automobile Association. If this condition is not corrected, it can lead to costly damage.

'AND THEY WENT UP . . .'

There Was No Paved Highway For That First Christmas Trip

There was no macadam highway leading from Nazareth to Bethlehem when Mary and Joseph undertook their memorable journey nearly 2,000 years ago.

As far as routes were concerned, there were three. The western route led along the sea-coast and through the plain of Sharon. This route was unpopular with pious folk like Mary and Joseph who shunned the heathen cities, rowdy travelers, etc., as much as possible.

The shortest route, via the fruitful plains of Esdraelon into the mountains of Samaria and through Shechem and Bethel, was not very popular either. The road was tolerable, but steep; however, the Jews had little use for the Samaritans, and vice versa.

The Jordan route, which descended into the Jordan valley and followed the river's east bank around Jericho, was favored by the majority of Galilean travelers who for one reason or another (the Passover, etc.) went down to Jerusalem at regular intervals and knew their way around as well as suburbanites know their way around modern metropolitan areas.

If the Jordan route was a little round-about, it was fairly level—and steeped in Jewish history, from the shadow of Mount Tabor where Saul in desperation sought his 'witch' of Endor, to the tomb a little before Bethlehem where the first Joseph buried his beloved Rachel.

It is fairly certain that Mary and Joseph did not choose the western route when they planned their very special journey. Whether they chose to go by way of Shechem and Bethel, or around the walled city of Jericho may never be determined definitely.

But, the distance — nearly 100 miles—was, in any case, unrelenting and conquered only by persistent plodding. And when Mary was too tired to go another step, Joseph took the packs upon his own shoulders so that she might ride the little donkey which trudged faithfully at his side.

Verily indeed, did Mary appreciate the shelter of the stable that night—no one could have been more grateful or more happy than Mary. And she brought forth her first-born son, and laid him in a manger.

MUD SLINGERS

Sir Walter Raleigh's cloak-and-puddle chivalry may be too much to ask in modern traffic, but drivers should exercise caution rather than speed-and-spater carelessness during rainy weather, urges the California State Automobile Association.

Lucia Day Starts Christmas Season In Swedish Custom

Celebration of Lucia Day on December 13 inaugurates the Christmas season in Sweden. It takes its name from St. Lucia, or Lucy, martyred for her faith and virginity in Syracuse in 304, A. D., and venerated by the church each December 13.

The prettiest blonde in every home, office, factory, village and town is elected a "Lucia" and visits the sick, leads carnivals and processions and attends banquets and balls accompanied by her "handmaidens."

The ancient custom coincides with the winter solstice, when the sun swings toward the earth once more and the days begin to lengthen.

In addition to beauty, other qualifications for "Lucias" or "light queens" are fair hair, a nice disposition and high character.

Dressed in long white robes, wearing crowns of lighted candles (the traditional costume for "Lucias") the girls present gifts and the traditional Lucy day coffee and rolls to hospital patients, etc. The queen and her maidens, enchroned in a star spangled horse-drawn chariot, lead festive processions around the village squares and through city streets.

Parade participants depict alternate scenes from Sweden's picturesque Lapland and the Wild West of the United States, while musicians in multi-colored costume alternate playing northern folk tunes and American jazz.

Folsom Power Plant Bids Studied

Bids for furnishing and installation of three 54,000 kilowatt electric generators for the Folsom Power Plant, a feature of the Central Valley Project on the American River 20 miles east of Sacramento, are being reviewed for early contract award by the Bureau of Reclamation in Denver, Colorado, it was announced today by Richard L. Boke, regional director.

Westinghouse Electric Company of Pittsbugh, Pa., was apparent low bidder with $2,525,000. Other bids received by Reclamation's chief engineer in Denver were Allis Chalmers, Milwaukee, Wis., $2,593,680; and General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y. $2,630,485. All bids are subject to a 20 per cent price increase escalator clause.

"The generators, which will add 162,000 kilowatts capacity to the Central Valley's power system, must be installed within 1,180 calendar days from notice to proceed to the successful bidder," Mr. Boke said. "Thus they will be ready to produce power coincident with storage of sufficient water in Folsom Reservoir."

Specifications call for vertical shaft hydroelectric generators, which will be driven at 163.6 revolutions per minute by three 74,000 horsepower turbines. The latter will be powered by waters of the American River, to be impounded by Folsom Dam.

Folsom Power Plant, to be located on the right bank of the American River just downstream from Folsom Dam, is being built by the Bureau of Reclamation as an intgral part of the Central Valley Propect. The dam, under construction by the Army Corps of Engineers, will be operated by Reclamation on completion by the Corps.
